Wet Forces of Governor Smith to Insist on Modification Plank EXPECT BRYAN TO LEAD IN STRUGGLE

Anti-Klan Contingent Ready to Wage Bitter Fight For Cause
(By United Press Leased Wire.)
NEW YORK, June 18.—In the interest of party harmony, Democratic leaders are making quiet but determined efforts to keep the Ku Klux Klan question and the wet and dry issue from breaking out on the floor of the convention.

There were indications today that they may be successful in preventing the Klan question from coming up for debate, but the equally troublesome prohibition issue seems almost certain to cause another clash as it did in San Francisco in 1920.

A dramatic debate between William J. Bryan and Bainbridge Colby, as the champion of the wet issue is in prospect with the frankly wet forces of Gov. Al Smith forcing the modification issue. Colby, former secretary of state, lacks none of the oratorical fire of the commoner and the clash is expected to furnish all the thrills of the memorable debate between Bryan and the late W. Bourke Cockran.

Dodge Klan Question.
The vexatious Klan question of the leaders hope to be able to keep it bottled up in committee rooms. The Underwood forces are the most vigorous advocates of a strong plank denouncing the Klan. If this can be ironed out before the plan is presented, the leaders believe no question will be raised on the floor.

But it was evident that the anti-Klan elements were not going to accept a mild expression for law enforcement and religious liberty without a struggle. Several New York newspapers are agitating the question and it is certain to be kept before the delegates.

Reports that a large delegation of Klansmen headed by Imperial Wizard, Evans, who established headquarters at Cleveland during the Republican convention is due here by the end of the week, has only served to increase the difficulties of the Democratic leaders to keep the subject under cover.

Solene Anxious.
Democratic members of congress arriving here to take part in the convention are especially anxious that the Klan question be submerged. Southern members are less alarmed over the question than the northern strongholds of the Klan.

The two principal candidates to date—Governor Al Smith and William Gibbs McAdoo—were installed in their headquarters today prepared for continuous personal direction of their respective convention campaigns.
Likewise the leading convention strategists—George Brennan, Thomas Taggart and Ed Moore—will arrive and be functioning by dusk. Political medicine is brewing all over the city.
Up to the present time convention activities have been confined to surmises of a few scattered

Cross Country Hop Delayed Due to Storms

MINEOLA, L. I., June 18.—Lieutenant Russell L. Maughan will not attempt his dawn-to-dusk flight to San Francisco tomorrow because of storms in Mississippi valley and may not start until Saturday.
M. C. McDaniel, mechanic, reported from St. Joseph, Mo., that the flying field there is so soggy it would be dangerous to attempt a landing.
Maughan will fly a new plane and expects to make the trip to San Francisco in 17 hours, starting about 3 a. m.

California Delegation Leaves Trail of Products En Route to Democrat Parley.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—The special train known as the "California McAdoo Special," bearing California's delegation of more than 100 Democratic committee men and women, state leaders and delegates to the Democratic national convention in New York City left here at 11 a. m. today.
Leaving a trail of oranges, lemons, orangeade and lemonade in the cities, the train will pass through the delegates will arrive in New York June 23, where California headquarters will be opened at the Vanderbilt Hotel.

DAWES OFF TO EARLY START IN CAMPAIGN

(By United Press Leased Wire.)
CHICAGO, June 18.—Charles G. Dawes, explosive Republican vice presidential nominee, has leaped into the campaign without waiting for official notification of his nomination.

Standing in a heavy rain, with rivulets of water streaming down his bare head and into the collar of a raincoat, Dawes last night told a gathering of Evanston men and women that he would trail the political demagogue to his lair and ask no quarter and give none. Political demagogues are a curse the world over, said Dawes.

Europe's unhappiness he attributed in large measure to them.
Dawes called for honest discussions of public affairs and issued the following challenge:
"As to the demagogue on the stump, whatever may be his party, I want it distinctly understood that in the coming campaign, I ask no quarter and will give none."

Vanderbilt Plans Paper in Seattle

SEATTLE, Wash., June 18.—Cornelius Vanderbilt, publisher of the Vanderbilt newspapers in San Francisco and Los Angeles, announced today that he had wired William Randolph Hearst asking if the latter would name a price for the sale to him of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer.
At the same time Vanderbilt revealed that experts had been making a survey for him of the Seattle newspaper field and that if Hearst does not care to sell, "he will have another plan to offer."

NOTED AUTHOR PASSES.

SHANGHAI, June 18.—Frank G. Carpenter, newspaperman, author and globe trotter, died at Nanking early today of cystitis, according to word received here.

RED FORCES DEADLOCK PARLEY

FUTURE NOW CONCERNS CHAMBER

Reorganization Outlined As First Need As Views on Past Are Aired

Smoke today still emanated from the bomb cast into the ranks of the board of directors yesterday by J. C. Metzgar, when he tendered his resignation as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, after a service of thirteen years.
Directors who also tendered their resignations had withdrawn today with the understanding that they again would present them August 1, when Metzgar's resignation becomes effective, and by which time it was expected reorganization of the body will have been effected.
The Chamber is an incorporated body, these men learned, and it would cease to function unless there was at least a majority of the board in office.
W. H. Spurgeon, vice president, assumed charge of the situation, as Charles Spicer, president, is on his way East.
Spurgeon said he would not attempt to call a special meeting of the board to take up discussions concerning future action.
"It is probable that at the stated meeting of the directors Wednesday at 8:30 a. m. we will discuss a successor to Metzgar," Spurgeon added, "and take up other matters concerning reorganization of the Chamber."

"The Chamber is an important city body and it must be maintained in harmony. In advance of the meeting of the directors, I have no suggestion to make as to what course might be best in the reorganization program."
The members of the board of directors who resigned yesterday were Dr. P. R. Reynolds, C. F. Heil, H. B. Wellington, George Dunton, F. L. Purinton and L. G. Swales. Metzgar also is a director. R. L. Brown, Spurgeon and Spicer are the other members of the board.
According to Purinton, resignations were offered because members felt that if the sentiment prevailed that there should be a change in the management of the organization, all should step out of the way.
"Personally," Purinton stated, "I agree with a great many persons who have declared their belief that there should be a general housecleaning in the Chamber. I was willing to get out of the way, as were the others who resigned."

The cleaning process should include amendment to the by-laws and constitution. The secretary should not be permitted membership on the board.
Explains Committees.
Purinton, O. H. Barr and A. N. Zerman were appointed a committee to investigate finances and make recommendations to the board.
When asked if he had any statement to make concerning the situation, J. P. Baumgartner, chairman of the standing industrial committee, said:
"I think perhaps I ought to make clear some aspects of the situation which seem to be slightly confused. For instance, both in the public print and in the public mind there is some confusion concerning the regular industrial committee, of which I am chairman, and the special committee which has in charge the particular job of organizing the Industrial Land company to purchase and hold lands for industrial purposes. This latter committee is headed by Zerman and his associates are Wellington and Barr. The standing industrial committee, to which is referred all matters pertaining to industrial development, is composed of myself, W. F. Menton, E. F. Farnsworth, Barr and C. T. Coontz. This standing industrial committee, had nothing to do with the employment nor with the termination of the employment of William H. Miller as industrial commissioner."

Responding to a question as to what, in his opinion, led up to the resignations of yesterday, Baumgartner said:
"Hopefully Divided"
"That is a long and tortuous story, which probably no one man could tell in its entirety and without bias. The board seemed hopelessly and almost evenly divided on some very vital questions of policy, and attempts at compromise

FIRE DAMAGE AT BRAWLEY $500,000

One Fireman Dead, Several Injured In Fighting Business Block Blaze

(By United Press Leased Wire.)
BRAWLEY, Cal., June 18.—One man was killed and property valued at $500,000 destroyed in a fire which swept a city block here today.
Arthur Boggeman, a member of the local fire department, was crushed under a falling wall. He was dead when fellow firemen extricated him from the debris. Several firemen were injured, including members of the El Centro and Imperial departments, who rushed here to help fight the blaze.
The fire started shortly after 1 a. m. in a Japanese pool hall from undetermined origin. It spread rapidly and soon reached the Dun-lack hotel and the Ashi hotel nearby. Nearly a score of pool halls, barber shops and stores were consumed in the flames.
Guests in the hotels were aroused and made their way to safety, many of them joining the firemen in fighting the blaze.
Three fire trucks, the one from the local department, one from El Centro and another from Imperial, were pressed into service. The blaze was brought under control about 6 o'clock, and further spread was believed improbable.

Three women in one home and the two men, in separate homes were under physicians' care today, Alameda police said. Police characterized the case as a wholesale attempt to poison hundreds of persons.

Jury Convicts Doctor in Diploma Fraud

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 18.—Dr. Robert Adcox, St. Louis, involved in the medical "diploma mill" expose today was found guilty of bribery by a jury in circuit court. The jury set a sentence of two years in the penitentiary.
The state charged Adcox of bribing B. P. Jilly, superintendent of schools in St. Charles county, near here, to issue to Bernard Adlers a certificate of a high school education.

SEEK BAKER SUSPECT IN POISON PLOT

Five Near Death In Alameda From Eating Poisoned Snacks—Arrest Near, View.

OAKLAND, June 18.—Three women and two men are lying dangerously ill in Alameda today while all available detectives are searching for an ingenious and scientific food poisoner believed to be an insane baker who has supplied death laden cakes to unsuspecting housewives from one of the most prominent bakeries in the city. The names of the victims are being withheld by the police pending an arrest which is expected shortly.
Three women in one home and the two men, in separate homes were under physicians' care today, Alameda police said. Police characterized the case as a wholesale attempt to poison hundreds of persons.

TWO SURPRISE WITNESSES IN GREER CASE

(By United Press Leased Wire.)
LOS ANGELES, June 18.—Two men, surprise witnesses for the state, were scheduled to be called today as closing blows in the prosecution's case against Horace A. Greer, chauffeur, charged with "plugging" Courtland S. Dines, rich Denver young man.
The forenoon session got away to a slow start, delayed presumably by the prosecution rounded up its final testimony.
The state's last witnesses were understood to be parties who heard the shooting on New Year's night in Dines' apartment, and their statements are expected to neutralize any possible claim of the defense that Dines wasn't shot while in his quarters but somewhere else, and then taken home, as has been hinted occasionally.
So far, the trial has been excellent hot weather entertainment. Everyone is in the best of spirits, and levity reigns, despite the fact that Miss Normand and Edna Purviance, the guests at Dines' interrupted New Year's party, have not been in court since Monday, when they both told their stories.

Yesterday was kind of an officers' dress parade all day. A half dozen or more policemen, from lieutenants down to ordinary "flat-feds," replaced each other on the witness stand to tell of the mental, physical and material confusion which reigned in Dines' apartment when they broke in on that New Year's evening, to find him, in the role of a masculine September morn, posed on one foot attempting to put on his shoes, while blood from his wounds coursed down his bosom, and with Miss Normand and Miss Purviance, the Chief Postal Inspector Rush D. Simmons left here today for Chicago to take full charge of the case.

JAIL NEW SUSPECT IN TRAIN ROBBERY

CHICAGO, June 18.—Carlos Fontana, charged by police with being a notorious bandit, today was added to the list of men held in connection with the $3,000,000 mail train robbery near Roundout, Ill., last week. More than $100,000 of the loot has been recovered.
Ernest Fontana, brother of Carlos, and Anthony E. Kissane were being sought.
The recovered loot was found in an abandoned automobile near Joliet, Ill. There were sixty-two registered mail sacks in the car.

LA FOLLETTE CANDIDACY HITS SNAG

Communists Trick Convention Leaders and Jam Big Session

(By United Press Leased Wire.)
CONVENTION HALL, ST. PAUL, Minn., June 18.—Frantic efforts were made on every side this afternoon to save the "third party" convention from the break up impending because of the newly developed power of the Communists. The Conservatives and Communists were in complete deadlock and both sides went into caucus to decide what they would do. Chairman A. L. Putnam of the reorganization committee, in which the fight for control is now centering, declared he is unable to say whether the Communists had a majority in the committee.
An appeal has been made to the Communists to abandon their strict independent ticket plan and prevent the Conservatives from walking out.
Farmer-Labor organizers of the movement which was to have swung a new national party behind Senator Robert M. La Follette, announced they would quit and close the hall before night if the Communists carry out their plans which now seems likely.
All preparations have been made for the farmer delegates to walk out. In a conference lasting until the early hours this morning, the men who organized the convention made their decision. The showdown is expected during the day over the question of following La Follette. The technical point will be whether to put forward an independent third party ticket now—as the Communists desire—or wait until La Follette has announced his candidacy—as the farmers had planned.
There are few persons on either side of the fence who are not now fearful that the Communists have secured a strangle hold on the convention by unsuspected clever and skillful stacking of the delegates.
"They have double crossed us," William Mahoney, organizer of the convention, told the United Press today. "We have a final hope. We may be able to muster enough strength to beat them today. Many of our men voted with them because they did not understand the issue."
"But if we do not beat them we will leave them flat."

Mother of Five In Suicide Plot

LOS ANGELES, June 18.—Despondent over financial difficulties was believed to be the motive in the attempted suicide of Mrs. Rose Albert, 27, mother of five children, who swallowed bichloride of mercury tablets in her home today.
Mrs. Albert was found lying on the bathroom floor by her husband who was attracted by her cries of pain.
At the receiving hospital, it was stated that she will recover.

Recover All Loot In Train Robbery

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Recovery of all cash and securities taken in the $3,000,000 holdup on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad in Illinois last week, and arrest of all concerned, will be announced shortly, the postoffice department said today.
Chief Postal Inspector Rush D. Simmons left here today for Chicago to take full charge of the case.

Year-old Wounds Caused by Wild Elephant Claim Famous Trainer

HOLLYWOOD, June 18.—Succumbing to injuries he received nearly a year ago when attacked by an elephant, Algerian "Curley" Stecker, 32, well known animal trainer at Universal City, died early today in the Hollywood hospital.
Stecker was hurt when "Curley," a huge beast, turned on him in a fierce attack. The trainer was rescued, but not before he was severely injured. He had been in the hospital most of the time since.

Ohio Judge in Death Leap From Hospital

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 18.—Judge R. M. Wanamaker of the Ohio supreme court, committed suicide today by leaping from the fourth floor of Mount Carmel hospital, where he had been confined following a nervous breakdown.
While his nurse was out of the room, Wanamaker went into the bath room, turned the key in the lock, started the water running in the bath tub and then raised the window and leaped out.

CLEAR GRANT IN VETERANS' BUREAU QUIZ

Investigating Committee Finds Charges Against District Chief Groundless.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Director of the veterans' bureau today approved a report of the committee of investigation declaring Major Louis T. Grant, district manager of the twelfth district of the veterans, is "efficient and morally fit for the office."
The majority report of the investigating committee said the disabled men had not suffered "because of anything under the control of Major Grant, or any disclosures made regarding him."
A minority report from the committee agreed that charges against Grant had not been substantiated but declared he failed to organize an efficient staff.

'KNOCKING BIRD' TRACT AFFRAY NETS FINES

"Listen to the knocking bird." That request, painted on a large signboard over a Westminster subdivision, led to words. The words led to blows.
The blows—with a kick or two sandwiched in, it was said—led to court, where the records of a trial today revealed the story of the signboard.
Max La Pat, San Pedro druggist, and owner of the subdivision, had heard "knocks" regarding his lots, it was said. So he erected the sign and stood back to survey its retort with grim satisfaction. Among other things, the sign suggested that the "knocker" might have "an axe to grind."
The eye of Lloyd Morris, a rival subdivider, was caught by the glaring sign and kindled with indignation. It was said.
Shortly thereafter, according to testimony at the trial in Justice Jack Landell's court here yesterday, Morris and E. B. Finley encountered La Pat and his salesman, H. F. Roberts, in a sedan near the signboard.
"Who does that sign refer to?" Morris was said to have demanded.
"Whoever the shoe fits can wear it," was La Pat's spirited reply.
After a brief pursuit, according to the testimony, Morris overtook La Pat when the latter stumbled and a painful interview followed. La Pat was taken to a hospital, it was said.
Meanwhile Finley and Roberts were said to have been exchanging pleasantries, entirely without profit to Roberts.
Two complaints were subsequently brought in court against Finley and Morris, one charging battery and the other assault with intent to commit battery. At the trial late yesterday, the battery charge was dismissed by the prosecution's motion, and a jury was empaneled to hear the assault charge. A verdict of guilty was returned and the court fined Finley and Morris $50 each.
Attorneys John A. Harvey and James L. Hansen, representing the defendants, filed notice of an appeal to the superior court.
Kenneth H. Burns, deputy district attorney, conducted the prosecution.

24 DEATHS TOLL FOR REVENGE

CLEAR UP MYSTERY IN L. A. DISASTER

"Didn't Like Things at Home" Only Excuse For Starting Big Fire
(By United Press Leased Wire.)
LOS ANGELES, June 18.—Josephine Bartholomew, a 15-year-old inmate of the Hope Development school, which burned the night of May 31, causing the death of twenty-three children and one woman, today confessed that she started the fire.
Her confession came after other children rescued from the building recalled that Josephine had been downstairs shortly before the flames were discovered.
Weeping, the girl, a high grade moron, was brought to the district attorney's office today by W. H. Prescott, head of the juvenile department.
"I set the fire because I didn't like things at home," the girl said between sobs. "They didn't treat me right."
"I borrowed a match from my roommate in the morning," the girl continued. "I kept it all day. That night I went downstairs to the cellar. There was a pile of sacks and kindling there. I lit the match and watched the sacks burn a minute, and then went upstairs to bed."
"Pretty soon the matron began to holler 'fire,' so I got up and ran downstairs with the other girls. I wasn't afraid I would be burned."
The young pyromaniac is of the Spanish type, with dark hair and eyes. She is rather pretty, but in her eyes is the vacant stare common to persons with undeveloped minds.
According to caretakers at the home, Josephine never showed signs of pyromania before and had never manifested any desire to play with matches.
When flashlight pictures were taken of her in the district attorney's office, she jumped nervously, and broke into tears.
Because of her mental condition, there is no probability the girl will be subjected to legal punishment for her deed, it was admitted. Rather, she will be placed in some safe institution for treatment, it was believed.
The Bartholomew girl is classified as being mentally between 8 and 9 years of age, although she was born 15 years ago. She is slight of build and less than five feet tall. Her parents are dead, and before she was committed to the Hope Home, she boarded with Mexican friends of her brother's in San Gabriel.

KIDNAPED TOT TAKEN AFTER AUTO RACE

DETROIT, Mich., June 18.—Seven-year-old Gina Corsi, kidnaped a week ago Monday, was back home today.
Detective Inspector Bert McPherson rescued the girl from kidnapers late last night after pursuing their automobile and forcing them to surrender the child.
Gina was thrown out of the machine and as a police car stopped to pick her up the three men kidnapers' machine sped away and escaped. The girl was unharmed.
McPherson promised yesterday he would recover the child that night or quit.
Meanwhile, a relentless search goes on for the three kidnapers.
Two suspects are held and McPherson is hoping to have all three behind the bars tonight.
The last letter received from the kidnapers by the father, Edward A. Corsi, candy store owner, was a threat to kill the child and leave her head on Corsi's doorstep unless he dropped $1,000 from a taxicab at a spot named by the kidnapers.

SISTERS NEAR DROWNING IN BAY SAVED

Miss Effie Daniels and her sister, Marion, both of Los Angeles, owe their lives to Antares Deraga, captain of the volunteer life saving crew at Newport Beach, according to information received here today. Deraga pulled them to safety after they had gone out over their heads in the still water in the bay. Miss Effie Daniels had been wading in the bay most of yesterday afternoon but went out over her head. Cries for help by the distressed girl caused her sister to attempt a rescue. Neither could swim. When Marion went over her head she called for help and the mother, who was watching from shore started into the water. At this stage Deraga came to the rescue and in a few minutes had both girls safely ashore. They were able to return to their homes by automobile, apparently no worse for the experience. The near-drowning occurred east of Sixteenth street.

Man in Contempt Case Sentenced

Martin Morales, 18, of Newport Beach, was today serving a sentence of two days in the county jail here, having been found guilty by Superior Judge R. Y. Williams of contempt of court. A bench warrant was issued for the arrest of Morales several days ago when he failed to appear as a witness in a civil action, after being subpoenaed. He was apprehended and brought into court late yesterday.

Birthday Party Given For Two Honorees

Double birthday honors were accorded two celebrants near Huntington Beach last Sunday night when J. W. Means, reaching his sixty-seventh birthday and J. R. Eymann, celebrating his sixty-sixth, were surprised at the home of the former's son, the beautiful ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Therman Means.

A roaring bonfire was built on the lawn and much of the evening's pleasure revolved around it. There the bountiful supper was served and later in the evening all manner of lively games were played in the bright light. Music added its pleasure to the occasion and the evening was finally brought to an end with the serving of ice cream and two great birthday cakes, each bearing lighted candles.

In planning for the event, Mr. and Mrs. Means did not depend on the bonfire alone for the decorative effect of their lawn but flowers and other attractive appointments were used.

Heaping their congratulations and good wishes on the surprised pair of honorees were Mr. J. W. Means Sr., Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Eymann, Mr. and Mrs. Therman Means and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Eymann and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. Trujillo, Mr. and Mrs. Verrill, Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. Baldwin and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Dean and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Swanson and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Doak, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. May, Mr. and Mrs. Rhinehart and son, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Norman and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. Smith and son, Miss Norma Norman, Mr. H. F. Rhinehart, Mr. Alex Rogers and daughter, Mrs. Anna Shore, Mr. Frank Williams, Mr. Jesse Clark, Mrs. Alice Morse, Dale Park, Samuel Means, Miss Francis Murch and Mr. James W. Means Jr.

THOUSANDS HAVE TOBACCO STOMACH

The excessive use of tobacco is one of the most common causes of indigestion and stomach inflammation. Whether you smoke or chew makes little difference. The highly irritating juice of the weed is swallowed with the saliva, often setting up an acute inflammation of the stomach which may end in gastritis or chronic inflammation.

"Tobacco stomach" produces a number of distressing symptoms, first loss of appetite, then an occasional attack of indigestion. Perhaps your food sours at times and you notice a peculiar burning in the stomach. These attacks occur with greater frequency as time goes on. Finally, if neglected, the condition becomes chronic resulting in loss of flesh and general poor health.

Smith Bros. M. A. C. Stomach Tonic has proven wonderfully successful in all forms of digestive trouble. It is sold on a positive guarantee of money back if the first bottle fails to relieve stomach inflammation or dyspepsia. The very first dose should convince. Nothing on earth like it. You can get a large bottle for $1.25. C. S. Kelley Drug Store will supply you. (Mail orders accepted).—Adv.

Seek Boy With Airgun As Cats Are Shot in Eye

Police today sought a boy with an air gun who is described as being about 9 years old and who has been shooting at windows and dogs and cats in the northwestern part of the city.

Mrs. C. Noe of 629 North Garnsey street told the officers her valuable cat had been blinded in one eye by a shot from the lad's weapon. Another woman reported another pet cat at the corner of Hickey and Parton streets was similarly injured. It was said that several windows had been used as targets in the neighborhood.

$1125 Judgment Sought for Work

Judgment for $1125, alleged to be due for labor and material furnished for grading and oiling streets west of Santa Ana, was asked today in a superior court action filed here by S. E. Talbert, contractor, against Harper Brothers Commercial company.

The firm of Head, Rutan and Scovel represents Talbert.

Sues Woman to Quiet Title Here

Having recently been assigned a contract for the purchase of a local residence property, he claims, Frank Musselman, local lumberman, today had brought suit in the superior court here against Lida Isaacson, the original owner, and a seller of the property, to quiet title. A balance of $202 remained unpaid on the property, he alleged, and this sum was tendered to the defendant and, he claimed, was refused by her.

Attorneys Head, Rutan and Scovel filed the action on behalf of Musselman.

DEATH CASE JURY YET UNSELECTED

The trial of J. B. Brooks, charged with manslaughter, was still occupied in superior court here today with the task of picking a jury. This might be completed this afternoon, it was said.

Peremptory challenges "for cause" were being used freely by both sides following the tentative acceptance of twelve jurors just before court adjourned yesterday. Attorneys for both prosecution and defense appeared alertly watching each move made by the opposition in its examination of the jurors, and lengthy debates over objections were numerous as the trial progressed.

Brooks, whose home is in Los Angeles, is on trial in Judge F. C. Drumm's court, the charge against him being based on the death of Mrs. Stena Duncan, of Montebello, in an automobile wreck for which the state holds him responsible.

Laguna Justice Resigns Position

Appointment of a successor to Edward DeAhna, justice of the peace of Laguna township, was being considered today by the board of supervisors. Justice DeAhna's resignation having been filed with the board here late yesterday. The demands of other business influenced De Ahna's resignation, he stated in a communication to the board.

Bolsa Bonds for Schools Offered

The $5000 school bond issue recently voted by Bolsa school district was being offered for sale today by County Clerk J. M. Backs, at the direction of the county supervisors. According to an order made by the board here late yesterday, bids on the bonds will be opened July 8 at 11 a. m.

Would Administer Chris Ema Estate

Letters of administration over the estate of the late Chris J. Ema, Santa Ana tailor who was among the victims of the Newport harbor disaster of June 8, were asked today in a petition from Dr. James Farrage to the superior court here.

The petition showed a valuation of $5000 on the estate, which consisted of local business and residence property. Mrs. Lydia Ema, the widow, and her two children, Jean, 9, and Chris Jr., 7, are heirs to the estate. They reside at 825 South Garnsey street.

You and Your Friends Please Phone or Mail Items

The condition of Mrs. Frank Vegely, who has been seriously ill at her home at 417 Durant street was improved today.

B. Mustard and family have gone for a short visit to Sacramento. Mr. Mustard is an employee of the city water department.

Mrs. Manuel Rodgers, who has been here for three weeks visiting her sister, Mrs. Herbert Rankin, 2048 North Main street, has gone north to her new home at Haywards. She made the trip on the Harvard, accompanied by her little daughter Grace, namesake of Mrs. Rankin. While here the family, numbering twenty-five, inclusive of Los Angeles relatives, visited Mr. and Mrs. George R. Whitcomb at their new ranch, Orangewood, giving them a housewarming and shower. Mr. and Mrs. Whitcomb are the parents of Mrs. Rankin and Mrs. Rodgers. During Mrs. Rodgers' stay here, Mr. Rodgers surprised her by coming down to spend one week.

Mrs. R. Ruth Tiffany of 1316 Spurgeon street today welcomed an interesting guest, Miss Minnie Jamerson Smith, professor and head of the language department of the Salem college at Winston-Salem, North Carolina, who is an old friend and fellow teacher of Mrs. Tiffany in Idaho. Joint-Ease
Says Druggist

"Joint-Ease" is selling like hot cakes in my store because it is a most wonderful and speedy remedy for all joint troubles.
"But why not impress on tens of thousands of suffering people some of the things that dozens of my customers tell me almost daily."
"Some say that it knocks out lumbago overnight—Others assert that for chest colds and sore throat it has no equal. While many insist that there is nothing that is so efficient for neuralgia, neuritis and even head colds and nasal catarrh."

Answering the above letter, the makers of Joint-Ease, know that what this thriving New Jersey druggist says is true, but we still maintain that Joint-Ease is prepared for stiff inflammation, painful, swollen joints whether in ankle, knee, hip, elbow, shoulder, finger or spine.

You'll like to use stannous Joint-Ease, for with just one minute's rubbing, it soaks in through the flesh direct to the ailing bones and ligaments—that's why it succeeds where when Joint-Ease gets in joint agonizes out—quick—and without any waste of time all swelling and inflammation disappears. A little for cents. All druggists sell lots of Joint-Ease.

News Briefs

The annual picnic of the First Congregational church, scheduled to be held at the Orange county park Saturday, has been postponed indefinitely. Rev. Perry F. Schrock, pastor, announced today. The multiplicity of events occurring this week made postponement necessary, the pastor said.

Three Santa Ana boys, Hadley Hershey, Tenny Peterson and Millard Boyd, are making an automobile trip across country from here to Norfolk, Va. They expect to purchase a government sub-chaser, now docked at Norfolk, and to return in it to Buena Vista, the Panama canal. After leaving Santa Ana, they went to Salt Lake City,
Utah, and from there to Kansas City, Mo. They will go on to Chicago and from there across Ohio and West Virginia into Norfolk.

The annual "wienie bake" of the Men's Community Bible class, expected to attract 400 men and women, will be held at Orange county park tomorrow at 7 p. m.
A committee, Hugh Gerrard, chairman, Clinton Imes and John Graham, is arranging for the "bake." Members who have automobiles are being asked to drive by Sixth street and Broadway, between 6 and 6:30 p. m., to offer transportation to those who may need it.

Mrs. John F. O'Mailia, 509 West Sixth street, left Monday for Denver, Colo. She expects to be gone about six weeks.

All Michiganders and their friends are being invited to the June party at Music Art hall, 233 South Broadway, Los Angeles, Friday night. It was announced here today, when it was explained that a program and dancing had been arranged.

A meeting of the congregation of St. Ann's church was today called for this evening at 7:30 o'clock, in the parish hall when matters of importance which have been brought about by the sudden death of the pastor, the Rev. L. F.
Schaffer, will be discussed. The meeting is called by J. Ogden Markel, temporarily in charge of parish affairs.

Nine applicants for teachers' positions in the Orange county schools are taking the county examinations this week in the hall of records on Church street. Examinations will terminate tomorrow, it was announced.

The Spurgeon Memorial church quota of $600, in the national drive to raise $10,000,000 as an endowment to pension preachers, and widows and orphans of deceased Methodist preachers, has been reached and passed, according to an announcement made today. At one meeting of the church body, more than $750 in cash was raised.

Numerous persons were attracted to the corner of Second and Main streets yesterday at 10
a. m., according to a police report, when an automobile caught afire in front of a gasoline filling station. The flames were smothered before much damage resulted. P. O. Martin, 169 South
Grand avenue, Orange, owned the car.

Revenue stamps on notes will pass into history on July 2. Word to this effect has been received by the First National bank from the United States treasury department. The stamps were instituted as one means of securing money. Locally the stamps have been handled by the post office, banks and title companies.

A red hot stovepipe caused a fire shortly before 6 a. m. today at the home of F. Castro, 904 East Second street. Flames partially destroyed the roof. Ed Boynton, a desk sergeant at police headquarters, owns the house. The damage was estimated at $350. The firemen's prompt response was said to have saved the building from total destruction.

VOTE TO GIVE S. A. WOMEN PRIVILEGES OF 'Y' AT ONCE
AS MEMBERSHIP FEES FIXED

A decision to open immediately the Y. M. C. A. membership rolls to women of Santa Ana, as reached at the initial meeting of the women's committee held last night at the "Y" building, was announced today.

Application blanks, it was de-
ing places for the convenience of girls and women who want to become full-fledged members:

Rankin's, McFadden's Hardware store; Charles F. Mitchell Paint store, and the Y. M. C. A.

Yearly rates for women members were announced as follows:

Girls between 11 and 16 years of age, $1; high school and junior college girls under 16, $2; women over 16, $4.

Women members will obtain full privileges for one day each week.
Gymnasium work will be begun
Tuesday at 10 a. m. for an hour.

At 2:30 and 3:30 p. m. women's classes will be held and business women's classes will be held at 7:30 p. m. R. R. Russick, physical director, at present will have charge of gymnasium work for the women.

Committees to have charge of various phases of the women's work were appointed last night, and are:

Nominating, Mesdames W. M.
Smart, R. C. Smedley and E. F.
Smith; membership, Mesdames John A. Estes, Iva Webber and George Shoberg; program, Mrs.
Charles Mitchell, Miss Jennie Lasby and Miss Mabel McFadden; personnel, Miss Alverda West and Mrs. Marshall Keeler.

'NEWCOMER' ENTERTAINMENT PROGRAM TOLD
The program for the entertainment at the Y. M. C. A. here of all "newcomers" to Santa Ana, which is scheduled for 7:30 p. m.
tomorrow, was announced today,
and includes a contest to determine which state has brought the largest number of new residents to the city in the past two years.

The program follows:
Eight p. m. to 8:45 p. m., introductions, music and inspection of the new "Y" building; 8:45 p. m., assembly in the lobby; greetings from the Y. M. C. A.; welcoming address, by speaker from the Chamber of Commerce; brief greetings from organizations such as the Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis, Women's Club, Elbell Club, Realty Board, American Legion and Ministerial association; introductions by states; music.

Thirty-five boys and five leaders, all from the city of Orange, arrived at camp late yesterday. The camp flag was unfurled for the first time early today. They will be in camp until July 1, when the Santa

ANNA contingent will arrive. Santa Ana will be followed by several of the larger cities in the county. The camp will close September 17.

RADIO CLUB FORMED WITH TWELVE MEMBERS.
With twelve charter members, the Santa Ana Radio club was organized at the Y. M. C. A. last night, when twenty-five men and boys attended a meeting to discuss radio sets and improvements.
The meeting was held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Educational committee, with Walter J.
Ferris in charge.

A room in the "Y" building, it was announced, would be allotted the club as a work room, where members could build sets and work on their own. Plans for the building of a huge set for the Y. M. C.
A. lobby were also discussed.

Members at present are Lawrence Bolles, Earl Hamon, Burt Zaiser, Ray P. Thelan, James
Thomas, Edgar Thomas, Everett Trostell, Wilbur Bullard, Kenneth Wilcox, Wilson Andrews, Harry Moore and Fred Humiston.

The second meeting of the club has been called for Tuesday night at the Y. M. C. A.

Slot Machines
Use by Minors
Ban, County Aim

District Attorney A. P. Nelson was today preparing the draft of an ordinance prohibiting minors from the use of slot machines in Orange county, action on which measure was scheduled to be taken by the board of supervisors at its meeting next Tuesday.

The supervisors authorized preparation of the ordinance yesterday following the visit of a local delegation including Harry Lewis, the Rev. W. E. Roberts and others, who are campaigning against the slot machines.

Seek Autoist to Take 'Vets' Jams

Who is traveling toward Camp
Kearney or Sawtelle soon?
The question was asked today in an effort to locate someone who might have room in an automobile to carry two or three boxes of jellies and jams and other articles to the hospitals.

Most of the articles gathered through the Red Cross, American Legion, Legion auxiliary and other organizations were sent by mail today. It has been found easier to transport the jellies and jams by automobile. Anyone who may be going to some place near either hospital and who will take the contributions to the hospital is being requested to communicate at once with Mrs. H. H. Reeves, president of the Legion auxiliary, or with T. E. Stephenson, chairman of the Red Cross.

"DRUNKS" FOUND GUILTY.
S. Ramirez and J. Ramirez, found guilty by Justice Jack Landell of being drunk, were today serving sentences of sixty days each in the county jail.

Satin Hats Black and white!
Now $6.50. Fein's June Clearance, 420 W. 4th.

Members of the Y. M. C. A. are requested to be present at the building Thursday at eight p. m. to help welcome strangers and newcomers.

It will pay you to walk a block to Fein's and save $555.

FELD IN SUPPORT CASE
H. Romero of Santa Ana, charged with failure to support his family, was today in the county jail in default of $2,000 bail, while awaiting preliminary hearing June 21, at 9:30 a. m. before Justice Jack Landell. Romero was arraigned late yesterday.

ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-THREE POLYTECHNIC GRADUATES TAKE SCHOLASTIC STEP

D. K. Hammond, principal, and L. L. Beeman, chairman of class teachers, and the 183 young men and women who will complete their high school education here with the commencement exercises to be held at the high school auditorium Friday night. The principal and teacher are in the center of the first row of pupils, Hammond sitting on the right. It is believed that more than half the membership will continue their studies either at the junior college or some of the universities in the state.

TONIGHT MARKS GRADUATION OF JUNIOR HIGH

Commencement exercises for the classes of the Frances E. Willard and Julia C. Lathrop junior high schools, at the auditorium at the high school, and the first junior college banquet, at the Ebell clubhouse, are tonight's features in the series of exercises for the last week of school in Santa Ana.

Commencement exercises begin at 8 o'clock and the banquet at 6:30 o'clock.

The Rev. George A. Francis, pastor of the First Christian church of Orange, will deliver the address for the junior high schools. Other numbers on the program will be selection by the Julia C. Lathrop orchestra; prayer, the Rev. G. H. Burgess, pastor of the Richland Avenue Methodist church; two choruses numbers, "Tally-ho" and "June Rhapsody," by the girls' glee club of Frances E. Willard school; presentation of diplomas, J. A. Cranston, superintendent of city schools, and vocal solo, "One Spring Morning," Miss Virginia Bailey.

150 Due at Banquet
Richard Taylor, junior college sophomore president, said today that members of the committees in charge had devoted their thought and time for some weeks past to make this a night when the college can further that essential phenomena known as "college spirit." More than 150 banquet reservations have been made.

Under the direction of Miss Hazel Kinsell, student talent will produce the entire program. It was intimated that the "perpetration committee," under the leadership of Carroll B. Andrews, had concocted mysterious stunts that will enliven the occasion materially.

Commencement exercises for the thirty-five of the college will be held at the high school auditorium tomorrow at 8 p. m.

The Rev. Walter Thornton, pastor of the First Christian church of Fullerton, will deliver the address. The Rev. P. W. Clarkson of Orange, father of one of the graduates will also participate in the Seniors at the high school will hold class day exercises at the high school tomorrow at 2 p. m.

Tell Class Day Program of H. S. Graduates Here

The program will include numbers by the high school orchestra, class poem, "Autumn Leaves," Miss Mary McFadden; class phopsephy, "A Message From Mars," Donald Fletcher; and music by the boys' glee club. A one-act play, "A Very Naked Boy," will be presented by Norman Pixley, Miss Mable Pruitt and Lloyd Morris.

The class will be to be read by William Luck and Edmund Linsbard.

Presentation of the class gift to the school will be made by Lauraine Bowe, senior class president.

program. A forty-five minute concert will precede the exercises. Under the leadership of Miss Margaret L. Wickes, selections will be given by the glee club and mixed chorus. Instrumental numbers by students will be incorporated in the concert program. Tickets will not be required for admission. The class is the largest in the eight years' existence of the college.

Jr. High Class Day
Members of the graduating classes of the two junior high schools held their class-day programs yesterday afternoon.

The Frances E. Willard class exercises were held in the assembly hall.

The opening number of the program, given by the orchestra, was followed by a play, "Tatty Saved the Day," with Miss Florence Pixley, English teacher, directing. Participants were Teddy Stephenson, Elmer Bairdon, Corrienne Palmer, Barbara Goodrich, LeRoy Gray, Clarence Sprague, Virginia Rice, Mabel Robertson. At conclusion of the play, the teacher was presented by the class with a beautiful bouquet.

Adorned in cap and gown, Teddy Stephenson presented the class history. He was followed by Clarence Sprague, in fantastic attire, who gave the class prophecy. Evelyn Sherrill was a cute "widow," and in offering the class will she left the following class a rich legacy. The program concluded with singing of the class song, written

MERRYMAKES ON KFAW AIR BILL

Arnold's Merry-makers will broadcast an orchestral program for the KFAW radio audience tomorrow from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m. This orchestra has filled successful engagements at the Pine Knot pavilion, Big Bear lake; the Hotel Angelina, Anaheim; and Modjeska's home. The personnel is Cliff Arnold and Raymond Loeser, saxophones and clarinets; Leslie Carmack, trumpet; Louise Ward, piano, and Bill Cook, drums. Arnold is the director. Sherill Spurgeon, a piano pupil of Mrs. Arnold Peek, will play.

DR. KELLY BURIAL SERVICE IMPRESSIVE

The body of Dr. J. G. Kelly, Santa Ana chiropractor, one of the victims of the Orange county harbor tragedy, June 8, was laid to its final resting place in the Santa Ana cemetery, yesterday, following an impressive ceremony which was attended by a large number of mourners and admirers.

The services, held at 10 a. m., from the Winbiger Mission funeral home, were conducted jointly by officials of the Church of Latter Day Saints and the California Chiropractors' association. Dr. E. C. Fortin of Los by Lucille Swain and presentation of a picture to W. S. Kellogg, principal, by Maurine Osborn, on behalf of the class.

The Julia C. Lathrop class had its program at the county park, beginning at 1:30 p. m. Numbers were presented by each department of the class as follows:

Six-E, class history, read by Susie Hazard; 6A, circus; 6B, pantomime "take off" on departments of the school; 6C, play, "Getting Ready for Graduation"; 6D, "serenading," a "take-off" on music.

A picnic dinner at 5:30 p. m. concluded the exercises, the pupils departing from the park one hour later.

Angels, addressed the family and relatives of Dr. Kelly, who was 39 years old, in behalf of the chiropractors of the state.

Special musical selections were rendered by a group of young ministers of Long Beach and by Los Angeles chiropractors.

A large number of beautiful floral pieces were placed about the casket, these including floral tokens from the Santa Ana Advertising club, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Orange County Chiropractors' association, the California Chiropractors' association and the Long Beach Chiropractors' association, as well as several patterns from the Latter Day Saints churches.

Brief burial services were conducted at the grave by the Latter Day Saints. The pallbearers were Dr. F. F. Myers of Davenport, Iowa; Dr. Frank Pyott and Dr. E. C. Fortin of Los Angeles; Dr. C. C. Hatch of Orange, and Dr. J. A. Hatch and Dr. C. H. Pingley of Santa Ana.

Daughters of Veterans

Flag day and all that it means to patriotic Americans was celebrated in a happy manner Monday night by the Sons and Daughters of Veterans and their families assembled in G. A. R. hall for the pot-luck dinner and a program.

Over one hundred persons gathered for the affair and shared in a most enjoyable dinner at 6:30 o'clock. Later the program under the direction of the patriotic instructor, Mrs. L. B. Talbott was given.

This opened with community singing of "America" with Mrs. Emma Chapman leading. Mrs.

F. T. Porter then gave "Old Glory" as a reading followed by an encore number, a German dialect rendering of "Barbara Freitichie". Twenty Daughters, gown-ed in white with tri-color sashes and carrying silken flags, then presented a graceful and beautiful flag drill after which Mrs. Talbott told the story of the flag in a most interesting manner.

Mrs. Beulah Curran, patriotic instructor of Fullerton tent and a pleasant guest for the evening, also talked on the flag but made her talk a more personal one and discussed the Daughters' policy of presenting flags to Scout troops as a means of increasing their patriotism.

Interesting but brief addresses were made at this juncture by E. J. Parker, commander of the Sons of Veterans, Mrs. Floss La Bounty, president of the Daughters and Captain N. M. Holderman of the Presidio whose talk centered on the activities of the veterans of the Civil war and praised them for their Americanism.

Mrs. Sarah Brown pleased with her reading, "When the Boys in Blue Are Gone", after which remarks were made by Mrs. Eva Gage of Costa Mesa, Joseph C. Hurston of Laguna Beach and others.

Out-of-town guests included twelve members of the Fullerton tent, also the distinguished guest, Captain Holderman.

Pretty Luncheon For Teaching Staff

As Miss Stella Kaufman, one of the popular teachers at McKinley school, is severing her connection with the work there, she entertained her fellow teachers at a pleasant luncheon on Friday last at Ketter's.

Present were the Misses Clarence Marx, Artie Cleveland, Eunice Bauer, Kathleen Carroll, Ruth Baker, Alice Clark, Emma Hasty, Catherine Green, Gertrude Potts, Grace White, Betty Nowlan, the principal, Miss Mary Andrews, and Miss Kaufman's sister-in-law, Mrs. J. F. Kaufman. Pleasant and interesting rumors are floating around of the approaching marriage of Miss Kaufman to C. B. Stephens of Phoenix, Arizona.

GREEN SPEEDSTER STOLEN

A green-painted speedster, owned by H. Barnhill of Anaheim, was stolen late last night from in front of Barnhill's apartments. The car was seen in Santa Ana shortly before midnight, according to local police, who telephoned a description of the car to all nearby cities.

Betrothals Weddings Receptions

Smart Church Wedding Crowns Romance of Popular Pair

Against a background of shell-pink gladioli combined with graceful ferns, Miss Margaret Robertson and Orlo Householder last night took their nuptial vows at a beautiful twilight wedding at the Church of the Messiah where scores of loving friends assembled for the event.

Tall altar candles and the two handsome seven-branched candlesticks with their wax tapers, shed a lovely glow on the bridal party at the flower banked altar and subdued lights throughout the church glimmered from pink floral decorations.

Miss Robertson's brother-in-law, Noel McMillon, escorted members of the family and close friends to the front pews. Miss Olga Johnson of Fullerton, a Pomona college classmate of the bride, presided at the organ and gave a delightful recital together with Mrs. Chalmers Shaver also of Fullerton, who sang "Oh Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly."

Entering the church to the strains of Lohengrin, the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, Dr. H. M. Robertson, was guided down a pathway of rose petals scattered by dainty little Eileen Gibbs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fitzhugh Gibbs, who was a rose fairy in ruffled pink organdy.

Miss Robertson's gown was of heavy white Canton crepe. Her long veil fell from a chaplet of natural orange blossoms and her flowers were lilies of the valley and brides' roses showered with white sweet peas. She was assisted by her sister, Miss Grace Robertson, as "honorary bridesmaid," the latter wearing a smart frock of lace over apple-green satin with a picture hat to harmonize and carrying pink roses in quaintly formal effect.

Fitzhugh Gibbs served Mr. Householder as best man. The bridegroom wore a bride's rose as a boutonniere while pink rosebuds were used by the other men of the bridal party.

The Rev. W. L. H. Benton read the impressively beautiful marriage service and Dr. Robertson relinquished his daughter to the keeping of Mr. Householder.

A small reception was staged at the bride's home, 1317 North Main street, where Mrs. Mary Robertson, her mother, wearing powder blue Canton crepe, received the guests, comprising members of the family and the bride's most intimate college friends.

House decorations like those of the church, were in tones of pink, and lovely blossoms centered the attractive table in the dining-room from whence refreshments were served on individual trays. Mrs. Marjorie McGregor of Rivera, a college "roomie" of the bride, directed guests to the dressing-room while others assisting in various hostess duties were Miss Ruth Bartlett of La Verne, Miss Nita Lorimer of Pasadena, Mrs. Fitzhugh Gibbs, Mrs. Meredith Finley, Mrs. Tom Smith and Miss Jean Battersby, the latter being congratulated by her friends upon the lovely decorations at the church which she arranged.

Ices in cupid, slipper and wedding bell forms were served with bride's cake cut by the new Mrs. Householder herself, and groom's cake wrapped in waxed paper and tied with white ribbon. Punch formed the refreshing drink.

A pretty and unusual sentiment attached to the bride's bouquet, for the father of her oldest friend, (Mrs. Mark Crosby of Los Angeles) asked Mr. Householder to relinquish to him the honor of presenting it, to the personal interest and excellent taste of Mr. Champ Vance of Los Angeles, inspired the gift.

Aided by their friend and neighbor, Mrs. Elva Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Householder succeeded in eluding their friends and slipped away on a bridal trip to points unknown.

The bride's traveling outfit was all in gray and consisted of a clever little suit of Poiret twill with hat, gloves and footwear to harmonize. The tones of a peach colored blouse were emphasized by a corsage of pink sweet peas. Returning from their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Householder will receive their friends in a charming little home at 1449 Maple street where the beautiful bridal gifts will find an attractive setting.

A graduate of Santa Ana high school, Miss Robertson finished her studies at Pomona college of which she is also an alumnus. The past year she has been a valued member of the Orange High school faculty. Her romance with Mr. Householder began several years ago when she was of the high school faculty of Safford, Arizona, where he was then residing. Her return to Santa Ana won Mr. Householder to the charms of California and for the past three years he has been connected with the county surveyor's office. He is a native of Lamar, Colo., where his parents still reside.

News Notes of Interest To Women

Final Pre-Nuptial Party Given For Miss Coulson

On Monday evening at her pleasant ranch home near Garden Grove, Miss Hazel McFarland, teacher in the Santa Ana schools, was hostess at the final one of a series of delightful parties enjoyed by the Franklin school staff in honor of the betrothal and approaching marriage of one of their number, Miss Ireta Coulson.

Miss McFarland was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Harry McFarland, in greeting the guests and in serving a most delicious chicken dinner, picnic fashion on the lawn under the lovely trees, where only a ranch home could provide a setting of such quiet beauty. Amid the twittering of birds, the sunset glow and the charm of the moonrise, the happy party lingered in the garden to enjoy games following the serving of the final course of ice cream and cake.

Finally all returned to the house where music and games continued to make the evening merry and where the guests were keenly interested in the wedding plans of Miss Coulson and her fiancé, John Steele Davidson who have planned an elaborate and beautiful ceremony to occur tomorrow night at St. Ann's Inn.

Many happy events have been staged for Miss Coulson but none have been more delightful than Miss McFarland's dinner at which the guests were the Misses Lottie Sweet, Frances Peterson, Ann Powell, Evelyn Gall, Marguerite Williams, Octavia Goldsworthy, Gall Shelton, Sadie McCaughy, Nancy Laughand and Miss Coulson, the honoree.

Enjoy Beach Party

Employees of the Pennant cafe held a beach party at Long Beach last night. Those present were Misses Elsie Cole, Eva Fletcher, Mary Thomason, Janita Atwood, Gene Wiltsie, Mildred Bouker, Alice Roberts, Beatrice Gickie and Mrs. Velma Ridley.

I. O. O. F.

Many Santa Ana Odd Fellows and their friends are planning to motor to Anaheim tomorrow night to attend the big carnival, card party and dance which the Anaheim encampment, I. O. O. F., is presenting at the Odd Fellows hall there.

It was declared today that the affair promised one of the most enjoyable evenings of the season in I. O. O. F. circles, with something new every minute of the time. Llewellyn's Sun-Kist orchestra insures a delightful program for the dancers. Booths of all description will be in charge of Rebekahs of the district and while every attention has been paid to the grown-ups, the small people have not been neglected and special entertainment features have been arranged just for them.

The merry event will begin at 7:30 o'clock and every Odd Fellow will be privileged to ask his friends.

Calumpit Auxiliary

Yellow Appointments At Smart Party For Today's Bride

Coming at the final pre-nuptial courtesy to be accorded Miss Vivian McFarren, was the delightful little afternoon affair sponsored recently by Miss Maurie Hamill at her North Main street home.

Gathered for the event were the honoree, Miss McFarren whose marriage to Dr. Harry Huffman was to be an event of this afternoon at 3 o'clock, the Misses Mildred Smith, Martha Wirick, Ellen Gichrist, Esther Osborn, Estelle Viscott, Mrs. Maddox Clegg (Miss Zaida McFarren Mrs. Claude McFarren and Mrs. Gail McFarren) together with the hostess, Miss Hamill.

While cards were provided for entertainment, the guests found their chief pleasure in chatting of the approaching wedding and the many happy events which it has inspired. Wishing to present a gift to the honoree who has been honored with a succession of showers, the young people decided to present her with a pair of sugar tongs in her chosen pattern of silver.

This was given her just at the refreshment hour when Miss Hamill assisted by her mother, Mrs. Jay C. Hamill, served a delicious menu to the guests finding their places around one long table in the flower-decked dining room. Dainty flower figures nodded above the place cards and exquisite yellow columbine centered the table. Yellow predominated in all decoration in compliment to the honoree, a sparkling and lovely brunette.

Salad, sandwiches, coffee, cake, ice cream, nuts and confections formed the delectable menu, the cake of the sweets course being a white, bride's cake surmounted by a diminutive bride and groom. Miss McFarren cut the cake with much ceremony and was presented with the little figures as souvenirs of the happy afternoon.

Local Folk Attend College Commencement

Santa Ana and Tustin folk presided at Redlands university Monday afternoon and evening attending the class day exercises, reception by President and Mrs. Duke, the college dinner and the commencement address by the Rev. Jas. Whitcomb Brounger, D. D. were Messrs. and Mesdames I. L. Marchant, Mac O. Robbins, William A. Hazen, Mesdames William Taylor, Effie M. Crawford, Misses Mildred Marchant, Edith Rinard and Mr. Merle Kennedy.

Kemper McDaniel Taylor of Santa Ana was numbered among the graduates.

Legion Auxiliary

The American Legion auxiliary, Post 131 of Santa Ana will hold its regular meeting Thursday evening, June 19 at 7:30 o'clock sharp, at the Legion home. It is anticipated that this will be an exceptional large meeting with initiations, entertainment and refreshments. All applicants who have made petition to the auxiliary and have not yet been initiated should be at the hall at 8 o'clock.

Miss Georgie Gall Pennock, one of Santa Ana's most talented interpretative dancers will entertain with several solo dances, and several other features have been arranged to make it an outstanding meeting.

Bride-elect Is Feted In Charming Manner At Ranch Home

Miss Esther Zimmerman whose betrothal to Walter Kubitz was announced recently and whose wedding to be held the latter part of the month is attracting much interested attention, was feted delightfully last night at the Earl Laux home with Mrs. Laux, Miss Sylvetta Fricker and Miss Frances Rohrs as a charming trio of hostesses.

Choosing pastel tints as their decorative motif, the hostesses used quantities of varicolored flowers in decking the home. An interesting evening was arranged with various talented members of the party adding to the pleasure by music and readings. Miss Rohrs delighted with a vocal solo as did Mrs. Helen Stedman who gave a clever pianologue.

Two contests were productive of much amusement, "Love Among the Roses" and a pictorial review of the lives of the happy pair. Miss Zimmerman and Mr. Kubitz. Presented with magazine pictures and sharp scissors, the guests spent a lively period in depicting the outstanding events in the lives of the couple, from babyhood, through childhood days, early romantic attachments, vacations, school and all the other details which imagination might suggest. The hostess when completed, was presented to Miss Zimmerman as a souvenir of the happy evening.

At the refreshment hour, small tables were arranged with dainty luncheon and centered with tall bud vases holding yellow daisies. Guests found their places by means of dainty cards and were served with angel food and sunshine cake, pineapple bavarian cream and hot chocolate. Pastel tinted nut baskets held nuts and confections.

Enjoying the pretty affair were the three hostesses and the honoree together with the Misses Ruth Boose, Helen Kubitz, Esther Boose, Pearl Oberlin, Lovina Opp, Caroline Opp, Mabel Gackstetter, Marion Prange, Freda Schroeder, Elsie Goddickson, Vera Bernar, Helen Lutz, Mrs. Ralph Stull, Mrs. Arthur Kubitz, Mrs. A. Zimmerman, Mrs. Helen Stedman, Mrs. Gackstetter, Mrs. Otto Schroeder, Mrs. William Peterman and Mrs. Alma Maier.

Friends Gather For Pleasant Dinner

A recent happy dinner party at which the guests were neighbors and friends of long standing, occurred last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. John McFadden and her daughters, the Misses Mabel and Ada McFadden, 906 North Main street.

Roses were used for house and table decoration, and besides, the hostesses, covers were laid for Mrs. W. M. Smart, her daughters, the Misses Mary and Fannie Smart, Mrs. J. R. Medlock and her daughter, Mrs. Clarence A. Gustlin, Mrs. E. B. Sprague, Mrs. E. T. McFadden and Miss Jeanette McFadden.

The evening hours were pleasantly whiled away with social conversation.

Mothers Are Greeted With Daughters at Pleasant Party

Meeting in friendly companionship, a little group of mothers and daughters last night enjoyed the hospitality of Miss Betty Newlands, 801 East Fifth street, who was entertaining informally for her mother, Mrs. Newlands ere the latter's return to her Lorain, Ohio, home after a winter spent in Santa Ana.

Guests were asked to bring their needlework which offered occupation for flying fingers while cards were introduced for those who cared to play. However, bridge was not popular despite the fact that the daughters of the group were members of a little club which has played bridge fortnightly all winter. The friendly chat of the evening proved more entertaining than any game.

At a late hour Miss Newlands served orange ice and a variety of cake to her guests who included in addition to the honoree, Mrs. Newlands, Mrs. I. N. Owens, Mrs. Jay C. Hamill, Mrs. J. L. Craemer of Orange, Mrs. Joseph Wilde, Miss Rosa Gustlin and the bridge club members, the Misses Kathleen Owens, Maurie Hamill, Helen Craemer, Janey Wilde, Margaret King, Rosina Stier and the hostess.

Mrs. Newlands will leave in a short time for Ohio and Miss Newlands who is a member of the teaching staff at McKinley school, will attend summer school in Los Angeles. Miss Kathleen Owens, also a card club member who is in the county secretary's office at the W. M. C. A. will leave within the next two weeks for a seven-weeks' trip to Honolulu.

Sport Stripe Tub Silks, $2.39

First showing of the new candy stripe effects in tub silk fabrics will be given in connection with a special pricing which will tomorrow be a most interesting day for our patrons.

The vogue for broad stripes is just beginning to be felt and you will doubtless want to be among the first to come out in one of these practical, yet novel tub frocks of heavy serviceable silk. They are on sale at this special price until Saturday evening. The price for the three days is $2.39 yard

NEW STRIPE TISSUES, 49c

Again demonstrating the tendency to the broad stripes we call your attention to these new numbers in tissues which come only in stripe effects. The practical quality of tissues for summer frocks is well known to every woman and the advantage of buying in this sale will at once be evident.

Patterns come in pink, blue, green or black stripes on light grounds. The price for tomorrow is 49c

Japanese Crepe Luncheon Cloths

The basement store announces an offering of fine cloths which are printed in three colors on heavy quality Japanese crepe. The sections and borders are hemstitched, giving a decidedly neat as well as durable finish and the colors in which the designs are printed are absolutely fast; the patterns new and original. They are offered in two popular sizes at very moderate prices.

48 x 48 inch cloths $1.95
54 x 54 inch cloths $2.50
Set of six napkins to match $1.00

THE GARMENT SALE

The garment sale continues to attract by the unprecedented values which feature this sale. You will not find prices so low on a like quality of merchandise and the broad selection that is found in this offering makes selections most satisfactory.

High grade Silk Dresses $7.50
Flannel Sports Suits $14.95
Medium weight Coats $12.50

REMNANTS AT HALF

Friday morning we start the remnant sale which includes all the short lengths and broken lines of silks, woolen and cotton dress fabrics, linings, ginghams, drapery fabrics; in fact every line of yardage in the store will be found represented among these remnant lengths. Usable lengths for dresses, blouses, etc., also suitable lengths of materials for curtains and drapes and the hundreds of uses to which odd lengths can be put. You may buy them commencing Friday morning and until they are closed out at half their original price.

Stocks, Bonds, Markets and Financial News

WALL ST. JOURNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW

NEW YORK, June 18.—Any thought that the irregularity which developed in the afternoon dealings of the previous session would run into an extensive reaction was dispelled by the resistance to selling pressure in today's market.
Too many people were desirous of buying stocks on slight recessions and too great reluctance was manifested by purchasers to allow the market to fall below a substantial part of their holdings for the setback to gain much headway.
No impression was made on the main body of stocks by a drive against the oil in the late afternoon in which Atlantic Refining, Cosden and Pacific Oil bore the brunt of the pressure.
The market closed higher.

BOOZE, KLAN ISSUES WORRY DEMOCRATS

delegates who knew little but talked much, and to propagandists who were eagerly advancing the cause of this candidate and that.
There has been much discussion of the possibility of abolishing the two thirds rule, the guesses being about even that McAdoo will and that he will not sponsor the proposed change. Guessing on that point may stop late today.

Cox on Scene.

Arrival of the Cox advance guard and establishing of headquarters at the Waldorf late yesterday got his boom into full swing and there are now Smith, McAdoo and Cox boosters named in the order of their number and noise, button holding everyone who looks like an undecided delegate.

Senator Thomas Walsh of Monttana, leader in the senate oil probe, and outspoken supporter of Mc-Adoo for the nomination, has been selected by the national committee as permanent chairman of the convention, subject to approval of the convention. There probably will be no objection.

Walsh in the chair would give McAdoo a technical advantage where some ruling was called for that had a bearing on McAdoo's chances. Walsh, however, may be expected to run the convention im-partially.

CHAMBERMEN NOW LOOKING TO FUTURE

seemed only to confound the confusion. It seemed to me to be a clear case of men of strong convictions conscientiously trying faithfully to serve the public welfare, and being unable to agree.

"Reorganization of the Chamber of Commerce will be one of the best things ever happening in the city," Purinton continued. "Greater interest in the Chamber by members is essential to success. At elections, very few members show sufficient interest. I understand that when I was elected only eight ballots were cast."

"I believe the directorate should be increased to fifteen or eighteen members, with 50 per cent being elected each year. It is my opinion that standing committees are a farce."

"In my opinion, maintenance of an industrial department is absolutely necessary—it would be worth more to the city than the promotion of tourist business. We cannot get away from the fact that future growth as well as prosperity of the city is dependent largely upon location of concerns that will offer employment in large numbers to men and women."

Zerman coincided with views expressed by Purinton.
"The city cannot get along without a large and active chamber," Zerman added. "With that idea in view, we must forget differences that have arisen and devote ourselves to the creation of a larger and stronger boost body."

Industrial activity should be one of the most important features of the chamber's work, in the opinion of Barr.

"I am very deeply concerned in the maintenance here of a live chamber," he said. "It is an important civic asset and it should be made stronger instead of weaker."

Declaring that he was looking through "smoked glasses" because of over-work, Metzgar said he had made no plans for future business activity.

"I am going to have one grand and glorious rest," said the secretary. "I am going to be care free for a period. At this time I may say, with William G. McAdoo, as he said when he retired from the cabinet, 'I am going to devote myself to repairing my private fortune.'"

SUPPLIES LIBERAL ON L. A. MARKETS

LOS ANGELES, June 18.—Trading today was moderate.

Supplies continued liberal to heavy and the demand, while good, was not heavy enough to clean up stocks in many lines.

Beans declined sharply with heavy supplies and a lighter demand from the canneries for surplus stock.

Cantaloupes were cheaper with heavy supplies and some overstock. Tomatoes were firmer with lighter receipts and Mexican stock practically cleaned up.

PATROL AFFRAY SHOOTING DUE TO BE AIRED

The somewhat mysterious circumstances surrounding the alleged shooting of an officer by a quarantine guard, stationed on night vigil along a lonely canyon road, and the story of a miraculous escape from death, centering about a little black-covered book of law, were scheduled to be investigated by the authorities today at the preliminary hearing of a felony charge against M. J. Ward of Orange, set for 2 p. m. in Justice Jack Landell's court.

How the little black-covered book of law, carried over the heart of the officer appointed to enforce that law, stopped a bullet aimed at his breast, was one of the interesting features of the expected story. Jack Meek, special deputy sheriff acting as mounted patrol during the late foot-and-mouth epidemic, was expected to tell it.

Meek, who was thus shown a new angle of the law's protection, claims he was shot by Ward, a quarantine guard, after he had discovered Ward in an alleged dereliction in duty.

Women Approach
Ward was charged with assault with a deadly weapon following the shooting of Meek in Santa Ana canyon on the night of April 20.

According to Meek's version of the affair, he had gone to the quarantine station at the Riverside county line, where Ward was on duty with a Riverside county guard. Meek was accompanied by Leo Kroonen, Riverside county inspector.

Observing evidences of drinking on the part of the guards, they claimed, the inspectors, themselves unobserved in the darkness sat down beside the road to watch developments.

Before long, they said, two women approached in a car and halted to engage the guards in conversation. According to the inspectors, who said they overheard the talk, the women requested the guards to stand aside and allow two trucks, that they said would soon arrive at the line, to pass without inspection. The inspectors said they drew the inference that the trucks carried liquor.

Guard Disarmed
Accompanied by the women, the guards were then said to have left their station and retired some distance from the road. Sounds of riotous conduct, they claimed, came back to the inspectors. Meanwhile, it was said, the two trucks approached and passed unheeded. The inspectors said they bided their time, and did not molest the trucks, because their purpose was to deal with the guards.

Subsequently, the latter and their feminine acquaintances were said to have returned to the road, the women driving away in the wake of the trucks, laughing and talking to the guards as they departed.

As Meek stirred from his place in the brush Ward was attracted by the noise and whirled to face the inspectors. Turning his flashlight upon Meek and Kroonen, Ward, they said, fired point blank. The bullet penetrated Meek's left arm and lodged in a small book of game laws carried in his breast pocket. The book, he believes, saved his life.

Leaping upon Ward, Meek disarmed him, he said, and brought him to the county jail. A charge of assault with a deadly weapon was filed against Ward, and he was held in the county jail under $1000 bail pending today's hearing.

ELECTRIC RATE BOOST DELAY FORECAST

Declaring that a serious shortage of water power is confronting growers and that it may prove disastrous to citrus growers in Orange and other counties shortly unless some step is taken at once for the conservation of power, R. B. Peters, representing the California farm bureau federation, has called a meeting for representatives of power users, to be held in the offices of the farm bureau in Los Angeles at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

This information was contained in a telegram received today by A. M. Stanley, secretary-manager of the Orange county farm bureau, from Peters. It was to the effect that the shortage would be accumulative "and may be disastrous to citrus growers by fall if something is not done collectively and at once." De termination of ways and means of regulating the use of water so as to conserve power was stated to be the purpose of the meeting. Organizations in Orange county who today planned to send representatives to the meeting are the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company, Anaheim Union Water company, Irvine company, Santiago Orange Growers' association, Placentia Orange Growers' association and the Garden Grove Citrus association. C. E. Utt of Tustin will also go as a representative from Lemon Heights and A. M. Stanley will represent the Orange county farm bureau.

Santa Anans, as electric light and power consumers, will not have to be concerned over possible increased charges for at least forty-five days. This assurance was apparent today, following a hearing before State Railroad Commissioner Brundage in Los Angeles yesterday, when he continued until July 14 the case of the Southern California Edison company, which is applying for an approximate 20 per cent increase in electric rates during a nine-month period.

The continuance followed protests made by nearly a score of attorneys representing virtually all consumers of the company power. The attorneys declared their clients would not be willing to accept a surcharge petitioned without making a detailed analysis of the proposed plan submitted yesterday.

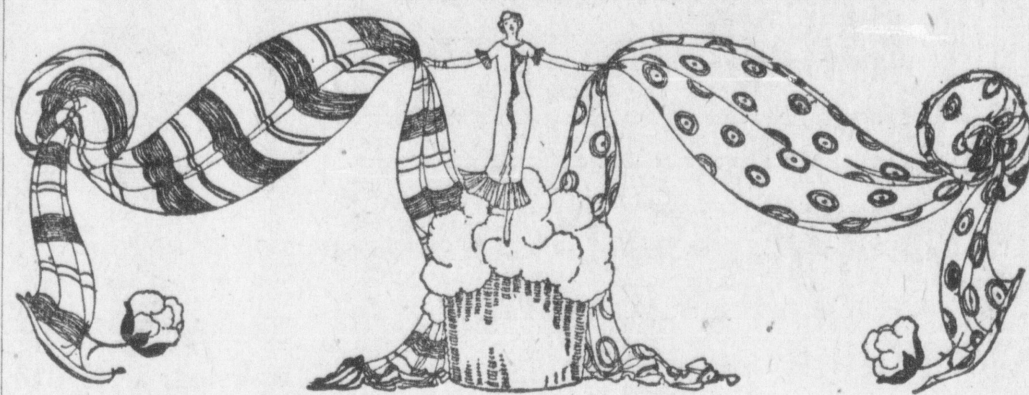

Commissioner Brundage indicated that it would be impossible for the commission to reach a decision before August 1. The proposed surcharges call

Straight distilled or straight run gas is the very heart, the very cream of the crude, made by the simple process of distillation. The crude is heated to a vapor from which the lightest is selected and condensed into gasoline.

In distilling Eureka Gasoline, an unusually low temperature is maintained which insures the high quality of this gasoline—complete combustion, quick starting, maximum of power and long mileage.

Garagemen and dependable service stations are familiar with the careful refining of Pauley's Eureka Gasoline—that's why they recommend it.

Wholesale power service, surcharge for installation up to 99 horsepower, 7-20 per cent; more than 999 horsepower 3-20 per cent.
Agricultural power service, surcharge 3-20 cent a kilowatt hour. Figures submitted at the hearing showed the company's net revenue for 1924 would be approximately $5,141,000 less than the returns of an average water year. It was stated also that the company's expenses for the year probably would be $5,568,000 greater than those of a normal year. The proposed surcharges would yield $2,971,000, leaving the company, it claims, with a net short-

Nut Pests, Claim

The walnut codling moth, a pest that for several years has caused Orange county growers considerable worry and trouble, may be eradicated at this time if proper control methods are used, A. A. Brock, county horticultural commissioner, declared here today.

This year, due to the irregularity in the way the walnut trees are coming out and the backwardness of conditions in general, it will be necessary to apply the control material a little later than usual for this best results, Brock said.

The best known control for this pest is five pounds of basic arsenate of lead, and one-half pint of 40 per cent nicotine sulphate to 50 gallons of water," Brock said. "If the orchard is dusted, a dust composed of 15 per cent arsenate of lead and 2 per cent nicotidust should be used."

Ideal Time Told
"From field inspection and from advice we have received from authorities on the subject, we learn that the latter part of this week and the first of next week will be the ideal time for the first application of basic arsenate of lead in this year's control program."

"This pest can be controlled with the use of the regular stomach poison sprays used for the control of mandibulid insects. A good many mistakes have been made in an effort to control this insect. One of the most important of these is the time of application of the material. A considerable percentage of the worms have entered the walnuts. In order to prevent this a careful watch must be kept of the grove and as soon as the eggs begin to hatch and before the worms enter the nuts, the material should be applied."

Spraying Best Method
"It is conceded by experimenters and authorities, that spraying is superior to dusting. Either of these methods when properly applied and timed so as to catch the majority of the worms before they enter the nuts, will give satisfactory results. This combination spray or dust above mentioned will control codling moth and the walnut aphid."

"Last year where the material was applied both in the form of dust and spray and properly timed the results were better than expected. One grove where a large acreage was treated by both methods, the infestation was reduced from 12 percent in 1922 without treatment, to 3 percent in 1923 after treatment."

WHAT IS LIGHT?

To the man on the street Light is only a convenience to see things by. To the physical scientist it is Universal Energy in one of its octaves of vibration. To the artist Light is the Revealer of Beauty. To the mystic it is a "Divine Covenant."

But Light is more than all these things. It is a Great Mystery. The more we meditate upon this mystery the deeper it becomes. For Light creates, sustains and reveals all things, even that by which it sees itself: the eye. From a sensitive spot in the skin Light organized that shining orb of vision, which receives messages from the uttermost depths of space, and like a lesser sun seeds forth beams by which souls communicate with one another.

Light is a positive and potent force, ceaselessly in operation. Relatively to Light, Sound is a sluggish and feeble thing; its medium the air, its limits the earth sphere. But Light, "swift as meditation or the thoughts of love," penetrating the abysses of the greater universe, companions our sun, our earth, our sister planets with all the stars, though these be so distant that our solar system, journeying through space at an incredible speed, has not, in recorded time, met or passed a single star. Who shall resolve this mystery? To the question: "What is Light?" that the wisest can only answer: "that he does not know. Light is."

L. B. Smith, assistant state leader of farm bureaus, was in the county this week checking the records of the local organization.

By way of paying their wages, after losing an attendance contest, recently staged, the farm center of Cypress today was entertaining the Buena Park farm center with an all-day picnic at Orange county park.

"How to Handle High Voltage" was the subject of a lecture before the farm center of Anaheim last week. Experts from the Southern California Edison company demonstrated the handling of electric wires by having as high as a million volts run through their bodies, it was stated.

Discussion on the proposed regulation of legislative representation was made at the monthly meeting of the Yorba Linda farm center last night. H. E. Wahlberg, local farm adviser, addressed the growers on "Soil Moisture."

Progress reports on grain plots were made by Farm Adviser H. E. Wahlberg, at a meeting of the El Toro farm center last week.

A plot for the control of nematode, a seed pest, was established Monday in the Greenville section of the county by the Haven Seed company, assisted by H. E. Wahlberg, farm adviser.

A committee representing the Orange county farm bureau, with S. W. Stanley of Tustin, chairman, presented the annual agricultural extension budget to the board of supervisors for its approval, yesterday. The budget includes itemized expenses anticipated for the year 1924-25.

To discuss the power shortage situation in the county, forty growers from various sections of the county have been asked to meet at the office of the farm bureau tomorrow night. Sidney E. Saunby, farm bureau statistician, will address the growers.

Will Hold Tests For Tree Doctors

Examination for persons wishing to qualify as tree doctors in Orange county will be held at Pomona Friday afternoon, A. A. Brock, county horticultural commissioner, under whose management the examinations will be conducted, said today.

Tree doctors, it was explained, effect various tree disease cures and advise growers. All are required to pass examinations before being allowed to practice in the county.

Farm Center at Villa Park Told Economy Should Be County Money Policy

The fact that the Villa Park school district and Orange county have one of the lowest tax rates in California was brought out in an address delivered recently before the Villa Park farm center by James Sleeper, Orange county assessor, at which time he discussed the assessed valuation and taxes with members of the Villa Park farm center.

Villa Park pays only $3.18 tax per year, which is as follows: county general, $3.35; bridge $0.05; salary $0.07; hospital, $0.09; interest and sinking fund, $1.11; advertising $0.01; county school, $0.37; county high school, $0.24; county park, $0.01; roads, $0.00; school district $1.25; total $3.18.

The total tax for the district is $47,941.36, according to Sleeper, who stated that the valuation of the Villa Park district was placed at $1,507,590.

Sleeper's address included an appeal to the growers to be more economical in spending county funds during which he said that there was too much voting for various bond issues not essential to the progress of Orange county.

"The truck menace to the roads of the county today is just as great as it ever was, and some method should be used in passing a state law requiring all heavy trucks to use pneumatic tires," Sleeper stated. "The cost of upkeeping the roads in Orange county last year was two and a half times as great as the entire county tax returns in 1910."

Assessor Sleeper, in talking about taxes stated that if the present laxity in the citrus market continued, that he might suggest that his department cut assessed tree valuations, but "stated there would be no reduction in property valuation."

"There are 5,000 automobiles in Orange county that are escaping the county tax," Sleeper said, and I understand that there are 50,000 in Los Angeles county."

Sleeper stated that he believed this condition could be remedied by a state law authorizing the distribution of license plates through the county assessor's office instead of having automobile clubs over the state distribute them.

"In this way," he said, "a record could be kept of all cars in the counties, and counties could collect their tax at the time of distribution."

The assessed valuation of Orange county property is $160,000,000, and the tax rate is $1.90 as against a tax rate of $3.49 in Riverside county and $3.23 in San Diego county, according to Sleeper.

FARMERS MAY ASK FOR CAL. PRODUCTS EMBARGO

In an effort to push California growers' products, it was declared today that at the next meeting of the directors of the Orange county farm bureau a resolution would be submitted asking that all members insist on co-operative goods when making such purchases as Sunkist oranges, Sun Maid raisins, Sun Sweet prunes, and other products.

Resolutions of a like nature have been passed by several county farm bureaus of the state and according to A. M. Stanley, secretary-manager of the local organization, there is every probability of passing the resolution here.

BUSINESS MEETINGS

* A vote of the Anaheim farm center showed great interest in a proposed "tax meeting," at which time county and school district taxes will be discussed. The meeting will be held in the near future.

To formulate further plans for the entertaining of more than 1000 walnut growers here August 9, the Orange county committee will meet here tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock in the office of the farm bureau.

Plans for an all-day picnic to be held at Trabuco Arroyo some time in July are being made by the El Toro farm center, it was announced today.

Villa Park, West Orange and El Modena farm centers are planning a moonlight picnic in Orange county park July 9.

J. A. Smiley, president of the Orange county farm bureau, has returned from the San Bernardino mountains where he spent several days.

An informal meeting of growers in the Costa Mesa district will meet tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at Costa Mesa for the purpose of discussing the delayed dormancy of apple trees and the best method for handling the situation at this time. Farm Adviser H. E. Wahlberg will lead the discussion.

To discuss the power shortage situation in the county, forty growers from various sections of the county have been asked to meet at the office of the farm bureau tomorrow night. Sidney E. Saunby, farm bureau statistician, will address the growers.

STATES LIFT CAL. PRODUCTS EMBARGO

The fact that other states are becoming less stringent towards the receiving of California products, following an embargo that was placed on goods from this state soon after the first outbreak of the foot and mouth disease, is noted in a telegram received here today by A. A. Brock, county horticultural commissioner, from State Veterinarian Lytle of Oregon, which quoted a modification of laws governing the shipping of products to that state.

COURTHOUSE IS BATTLE SCENE IN BUG WAR

Ten Cryptolaemus Become 60,000 In 3 Months; to Feed on Tree Parasites

"Bug eats bug." That's the basis for an interesting story of a sort of warfare that is being conducted in an araucaria bidwillii tree in the Orange county courthouse yard, according to A. A. Brock, horticultural commissioner.

"For several years," Brock said today, "this tree has been infested and inhabited by thousands and thousands of mealy bugs. Parts of the tree have been completely destroyed by these little pests that are known to all growers in the county. This year we placed ten little bugs, known as cryptolaemus, on the trunk of the tree. In three months time these ten had multiplied until it was estimated that there were more than 60,000 on the tree."

"Then the battle for supremacy was begun. In three months time the cryptolaemus have almost cleaned the tree leaving only the half-eaten eggs of the mealy bug as evidence of their work. All day and all night the cryptolaemus eats and eats, in their effort to serve mankind in ridding his trees of the pest that has been so numerous in this county for the past several years."

Rids Trees of Pest
"The cryptolaemus is the only means known to science to rid trees of the pest. All fruit trees in the county have their trouble with the little pest that inhabits orange, lemon and walnut groves by the thousands, and seriously menace the fruit production of the county unless eradicated. Spraying and dusting of trees is done every year, but this expensive work is not thorough, and the most direct way of getting rid of the mealy bug is by the placing of another bug on the tree that eats the mealy bug. This is being done all over the county at this time and with the best of results."

"The battle for the supremacy of a tree infested with the mealy bug after the cryptolaemus has been placed in the tree is indeed an interesting one to watch, according to growers, who state that the hardness of the mealy bug in the manner in which the mealy bug disappears after the cryptolaemus has begun its work."

Spraying Also Aid
"The spraying and dusting of trees helps in many instances, but the mealy bug is so small that it is able to crawl into all parts of the tree and in many places where the spray does not touch. But the cryptolaemus is thorough, and in a short time not a mealy bug is left alive."

The cryptolaemus does not harm the trees and lives by eating other insects. There are thirty-two various kinds of mealy bugs that are found on several varieties of trees, and the cryptolaemus eats all of the varieties and will work on one kind of a tree as well as on another."

"After the tree in which the cryptolaemus has been working is completely free of the mealy bug, he flies away to another tree, and is forever aiding in ridding the pest that yearly destroys thousands of fruit trees and plants in this part of the country."

Committees, appointed from Orange county farm centers for the purpose of developing methods of conserving both water and power in keeping with the state railroad commission's recent state-wide appeal, will meet at the farm bureau office here tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. A. M. Stanley, secretary, announced today.

These committees, Stanley said, will discuss the present situation and offers the utilities' companies hearty co-operation.

"We are willing to co-operate to the fullest extent by conserving all that is possible. We do not see, however, how we can save a great deal."

"We must have power to furnish water for the crops that are now growing, not only to complete this year's production but to set the buds for next year's fruit. About the only way we can conserve power is to pull the switches to prevent transformer loss, to be careful and not irrigate the roadways instead of our orchards, and possibly to refrain from flooding the lands for full planting cover crops."

"After the rains in the latter part of March we were assured by the utilities and railroad commission that we would have plenty of power for agricultural purposes until October 1. Farmers have been depending on this promise and we do not believe they should be disappointed at this time. But power conservation was something to be expected after October 1 we have had committees appointed in the various farm centers throughout the county, whose duty it was to develop methods of conserving both water and power."

CHEMIST'S DISCOVERY HELD WORTH MILLIONS TO GARDEN, ORCHARD, CATTLE OWNERS

MADISON, Wis., June 18.—A plus or a minus sign on your paris green determines whether it will stick to the potato plants or wash off during the first rain.

This true miracle tale which links the dirt farmer with the highly specialized and technical chemist is told by Professor J. H. Mathews, head of the department of chemistry in the University of Wisconsin.

It is part of his attractive lure, it might as well be admitted at the start, to interest the public in a process laboratory for the study of colloid chemistry at the university. But it's a fair yarn, and the insect spray is a bright example of colloid chemistry's operation.

Colloid chemistry deals with finely divided substances in suspension, as distinguished from solutions. Smoke, for instance, is a suspension of carbon particles in vapor and is a colloid. In the insect spray, solid particles of poison are suspended in a liquid.

Its Electrical
"It is common knowledge that the surfaces of all substances carry charges of electricity," Professor Mathews, returning to the potato bug and caterpillar subject.

"The charge on green leaves is negative. The charge on lead arsenate as originally prepared for insect spray also was negative. These like charges would repel one another and the poison would be washed or blown off the leaves in short time."

"A colloid chemist decided to give the poison particles a positive charge."

"The poison looked just the same as before, and it was equally deadly in either case. But the attraction between positive poison and negative leaf became as strong as the repulsion had been before."

"When the leaf withered in the fall, there was still a fatal dose clinging on for any hungry insect. The discovery is worth millions to orchardists, gardeners and owners of fine shade trees."

Saves Cattle.
Cattle dip in the southwest was likewise improved. The original dipping solution had to be made so strong that it took the hair off the animals and blistered their skin."

A colloid chemist found a way to make the dip stick faster to the animals treated, so weaker material could be used to the saving of the cattle but the equal discomfort of the ticks."

Colloid chemistry also will determine the hardness of wheat for winter. Formerly it was necessary to test by slow and patient planting. It was found, however, that hardness comes from the presence in the sap of colloids which bind the water and prevent freezing. Such analysis in a laboratory will give the same result now as six months' observation of plants.

Spell Dollars.
Colloids spell dollars to the farmer.

Medicine and industry will profit equally with agriculture from the development of colloid chemistry, according to Professor Mathews. His scheme for a laboratory is that advocated by the committee on colloids of the National Research council. The committee proposes to spend a million dollars on equipment and endowment, the laboratory to be located at a representative university and available to scientists from everywhere. Wisconsin is the leading bidder for the location.

ONLY LAWYERS

OF ALUMNI

A unique feature of the annual banquet and entertainment of the Santa Ana high school alumni, to be held at St. Ann's Inn at 6:30 p. m. Saturday, it was shown today, is the fact that the president, the toastmaster and all of the speakers for the occasion are lawyers.

Z. B. West, president of the alumni, is city attorney of Santa Ana and Fred Forgy, toastmaster, is an attorney. The speakers are George W. Dyer, prominent attorney of Los Angeles; Clara R. Cushman, the only woman lawyer in Orange county; Perry Thomas, assistant district attorney at Los Angeles, and Otto Jacobs, formerly deputy district attorney here. The selection of lawyers only for the program was not done intentionally, it was stated, and was not noticed until the program had been completed.

An urgent request was made today by Miss Blanche McDowell, secretary, that all members attending the banquet be strictly on time, in order to allow plenty of time for dancing after the banquet. Members who can not attend the banquet are being urged by Miss McDowell, she stated, to send in their yearly dues to the organization.

Reservations for the banquet are still coming in in large numbers. Tomorrow will be the last day that reservations will be made.

Aside from the speaking, several instrumental and vocal solos are scheduled on the program following the banquet. Chapman's orchestra would furnish the music for dancing.

FEAR SHORTAGE OF HAY HERE
THIS FALL

"Some serious attention should be given to the hay situation in Southern California," A. M. Stanley, secretary of the Orange county farm bureau stated today, "because there is danger that this territory will be under supplied this fall."

"The light crop in the middle and northern part of the state has been the cause of hay buyers entering this section and buying large quantities of hay for shipment to those sections. It is stated that as a general thing sufficient hay for our needs was produced south of the Tehachapi but the operation of these outside buyers is about to cut us short, making it necessary for hay to be imported later this year, in which case, of course, our farmers would have to pay a double freight."

To corroborate his statement Stanley drew attention to the fact that one buyer from Ventura county recently bought 3000 tons of hay in Orange county. Other buyers are snapping up the hay as fast as it is offered for sale, Stanley said.

"The price asked for hay in Orange county today in wholesale lots range from $23 to $27 a ton for the higher class alfalfa, and good barley hay is quoted around $22 and $25," Stanley said. "I am informed that this price is two or three dollars higher than the present market demands, but it is not improbable that the farmers' will have to hold their hay at these prices or better if the hay is held until a later date. However, in holding hay one must take into consideration the expenses of insurance, warehousing, and the loss due to much handling."

"I do not know what can be done in the matter but it seems that local buyers should anticipate their needs and buy as heavily as possible at this time. On the other hand farmers should be in a position to hold the hay for future demands themselves. The seriousness of the local situation lies in the fact that this local hay is being purchased by outside buyers and there is a danger of the crop being oversold, making it necessary for it to be imported at a much higher price, due to transportation charges, later in the year."

SANDY LOAM IS BEST
Tables Show Actual Yield In Pounds Per Acre For Various Types Here

BY H. E. WAHLBERG
(Orange County Farm Adviser)

Some very interesting and startling facts relative to citrus production in Orange county and other sections of the Southland are revealed in the report of the recent survey conducted by the citrus experiment station, co-operating with the agricultural extension service and farm bureau of Southern California.

Among the factors involved in citrus production, as covered by the report, are soils, fertilizers, irrigating practice and climate. Soils of Orange county and their effect on production is discussed at some length in Bulletin 374, just off the press and available at the farm adviser's office in the hall of records, Santa Ana.

It says that "the physical make-up of the soils is of some importance in its effect on citrus yields. The groves planted on medium-textured soil (fine sandy loam) gave the highest average yield. About 5 per cent of the groves are planted on very light soil (sand) and these groves produced 30 per cent less than those on medium-textured soil. From 5 per cent to 10 per cent of the groves were planted on very light soil (sand) and these produced 10 per cent less than those on medium-textured soil."

Table Gives Yield.
The following table gives the actual average yields of oranges in pounds an acre for the several types of soil

Yield in pounds per acre by climatic zone:

Type	Coastal
Sand, very light	14,400
Gravelly sandy loam	26,100
Fine sandy loam, medium	21,200
Loam, heavy	19,600
Clay loam, very heavy	19,000

The differences in yields between the middle ranges of soils (light, medium and heavy) are so slight that they may be almost disregarded. Comparatively few groves have been planted on the extreme soil types where a real reduction of yields is experienced. In the following study of effect of orchard practices on yields, the groves planted on sand and those planted on clay loam have been excluded.

There appears to be a definite relationship between the age of orange trees and their production. A regular and persistent increase in average production occurs until the groves are at least thirty-five years old.

The small number of groves listed that are forty years old indicates a still further increase, but the number of examples is too small to warrant safe conclusions.

Due to Selection.
Possibly this apparently regular increase is due to the method of grove selection; certain it is that many groves have been abandoned in the past as unprofitable before reaching the age of thirty-five years. However, the data indicate that well located groves may be expected to continue to yield satisfactorily at least to thirty-five or

HOME-COMING RECITAL FINDS DRAMATIC SOPRANO'S VOICE AT BEST IN VARIED PROGRAM

By ELEANOR ELLIOTT

It to give of one's best even under most unfavorable circumstances is a test of greatness, then Eleanor Woodford must be truly great, for circumstances attending her home-coming recital last night at the Temple theater were decidedly unfavorable in point of attendance, even though a warm enthusiasm was not lacking.

But disregarding the unpleasantness of facing many empty seats, the soprano whose early years were spent in this city entered into her program with the same interest, seemingly, that she would have shown had every seat been filled.

Assisted by Lillian Guenther, danseuse, and Raymond Harmon, tenor, Mrs. Woodford gave one of the most pleasing recitals of the year, with Raymond McFeeter as her accompanist and the Knabe-Ampico playing accompaniments for Miss Guenther and Mr. Harmon.

Mrs. Woodford's first group was charming although offering no marked changes in theme. The first two numbers, "Poigi Amor" by Mozart, and "The Rosebud" by Lafrange, were startlingly similar, although Rachmaninoff's "Night" offered a variation succeeded by the equally modern "Morning" by Olei Speaks.

Quality Marked.

While Mrs. Woodford's range is extensive and her voice is delightfully limpid and flexible, it is in the middle registers that its beauty is most marked. Those tones are rich and luscious like sweet rich cream.

This quality was especially noticeable in two numbers of her second group, "By a Lonely Forest Pathway" (Griffes) and "Open My Window to the Stars" by Liddle. The third number was a lovely bit, light and delicate, "Come to the Garden, Love."

In response to the appreciation of the audience, the singer returned to give "Loch Lomond" to an Ampico accompaniment.

Her costuming for the groups was most effective. She wore truly regal in the Russian court robes with handsome pearl head-dresses for the first group, while a sea-green crepe banded with silver was equally effective when she made her second appearance.

The royal purple robes with floating draperies of gray chiffon which were worn in the "Ave Maria" number were equally suitable for her final appearance with Mr. Harmon in a duet from Verdi's "Il Trovatore." The operatic number furnished the climax of the evening and in it Mrs. Woodford showed her true powers, for her voice, ringing like a bell through the theater, was crystal clear and retained the velvety smoothness which characterized the less-ambitious numbers.

Widely varied were the numbers of his second group, "Dawn" by Curran, a delicate "Lullaby" by Scotts, and the robust "Heigh Ho" of Burleigh. His duo number with Miss Woodford offered him greater opportunity than in the solos, and he sang the part in a most finished manner, their voices blending beautifully.

Miss Woodford, who has just completed a year of study abroad under the finest of European artists, will soon receive pupils at the Clarence A. Gustila studio, 316 North Main street. Those in last night's audience who have always been familiar with her talent and powers and used to hear her when she sang in the Presbyterian choir, were united in declaring that her voice has gained remarkably in power and volume while retaining all its sweetness and timbre.

County Products Show at Orange Approval Sought

A meeting of the directors of the Orange county farm bureau has been called for 7:30 p. m. Friday in the offices of the farm bureau at which time it will be decided whether the organization will participate in the Orange County All-Products show which is scheduled to take place at Orange this fall.

Due to the fact that the annual Orange County Fair has been postponed this year, many members of the farm bureau are anxious to compete for prizes in the All-Product show. A. M. Stanley, secretary of the farm bureau, stated today he was of the opinion that the directors would authorize the farm bureau members to participate.

The board of directors also will be asked by members of the Orange County Riding club to sponsor a rodeo to be staged in Santa Ana next fall.

DATE EXPERT NAMED TO SPEAK AT MEET

Dr. Walter Swingle of the United States department of agriculture, who is recognized as the leading authority of the United States on date culture, is to give a course of ten lectures and the accompanying laboratory work on this fruit in connection with the summer session courses on subtropical horticulture at Riverside this summer. These particular lectures are scheduled for the period from July 28 to August 8.

Dr. Swingle has studied the date industry in all sections of the world and as an agent of the United States department of agriculture selected and arranged the first shipment of important varieties to reach the United States. It was his studies and importations that lead to the establishment of this industry on a commercial basis in the United States.

The summer session courses at Riverside run from June 28 to August 9, while the courses are designed primarily for regular students, anyone interested may arrange to attend any course of lectures as an auditor.

Resident Has Awful Experience

"I was twice confined in hospitals, in the last one nothing but gruel water was injected into me 4 times a day, as my stomach would not retain any food. I suffered terribly; was reduced to a skeleton. My folks saw an ad of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and it has surely saved my life. I weigh 180 lbs. now." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.—Adv.

Two Simplified Methods of Safe Fumigation

The use of R. & H. Hydro-Cy Applicators has simplified fumigation and has eliminated guesswork. To effect the introduction of hydrocyanic acid under the tent there are two factors to consider. The first is that of correct measurement of the liquid and the second that of securing conversion of the liquid into a uniformly distributed gas or vapor under the tent. The Hydro-Cy Vaporizer and Hydro-Cy Pump accomplish both. The same type of measuring unit is used in these devices. The Hydro-Cy measuring unit employs no finger plate and the dosage does not have to be set for each tree. In operating the measuring mechanism the number of strokes determines the charge, one long stroke delivers five units and by turning the handle slightly one short stroke delivers a one-unit charge. It is the most accurate measuring element. Both the Vaporizer and Pump are proven successes, having been in service for several seasons.

Vessels at Balboa to Be Burned After Shooting of Vitaphone Film

BALBOA, June 18.—Work on the two schooners at Balboa being reconstructed into frigates for use in the filming of "Captain Blood" by the Vitaphone company, will be completed this week. Actual "shooting" of scenes, interior and exterior, will commence next week, according to those in charge of the work.

The schooners are old timers, the Prosper and the Taurus. The former saw thirty-two years of active service before being turned into a movie hero. "And," as Captain L. Sorenson says, "she's still a good ship." The last ten years the Prosper has been used for an annual run from San Francisco to Alaska by the Alaska Packers. Prior to that she was used for coastwise shipping.

The schooner, Taurus, twenty years old, was owned by the Charles Nelson Lumber company and formerly was an all-Pacific traveler in addition to coastwise sailings.

Captain Sorenson, who is supervising the "revamping" of the schooner, is an old tar. Now in his sixty-seventh year he has been sailing the briny deep since he was fourteen.

In 1879, Sorenson played around the docks and wharves and one day "got his chance." In 1879 he landed in California from Hong Kong with a shipload of coconuts. "I like California," said Captain Sorenson, "and I have been shipping out of San Francisco and Los Angeles ever since." He has visited every port in the world.

The two schooners being fitted up for "Captain Blood" are to carry ten sails each. They will be towed into the bay for the exterior "shots" while the interiors will be made at anchor. Following the completion of the picture which is to star J. Warren Kerrigan, it is understood that the Taurus will be towed into the Pacific and burned. She no longer is fit for service. She was towed into port from San Francisco.

The Prosper may find a place in Davey Jones' locker, but if Captain Sorenson has anything to say about it she will be rigged up again and pressed back into service.

"There are many more years of good service in that ship," he said.

BORN TO SILK LADY WEARS GINGHAM

LAGUNA BEACH, June 18.—Lady Gray and Helen Lukens Gault of Pasadena left Monday for their homes after spending a very delightful week at Laguna Beach.

Both are well known in Pasadena. On being asked as to her opinion of Laguna Beach, she began to tell that she was wearing her oldest shoes, because she believes in comfort, and in order to enjoy Laguna she must essentially be comfortable. "You see," continued Lady Gray, "I am wearing gingham. I was born to silk, but I wear gingham. It is always fresh and clean. When I leave here I am going back to my silk. I do not like silk; it is too common, so very common, so I wear gingham."

Both Lady Gray and Mrs. Gault are very well known in Pasadena. On being asked as to her opinion of Laguna Beach, she began to tell that she was wearing her oldest shoes, because she believes in comfort, and in order to enjoy Laguna she must essentially be comfortable.

Lady Gray said she often wondered if her work of teaching foreigners to become good, thrifty and loyal citizens really did any permanent good, whether it was really worth while. Her answer, she said, would come when some Mexican woman would stop her on the street and proudly display her baby wearing a bonnet that she, Lady Gray, had taught the little mother to make. The gratitude of one person that she had helped and the knowledge that she had been able to do so, was her greatest and richest reward.

Orange Boys Leave For Camping Trip

ORANGE, June 18.—Starting their vacation off right, eighteen V. M. C. A. boys here and "Doc" C. E. Morrow, their leader, left Orange this morning at seven o'clock for the head waters of the Santa Ana river, where they will spend two weeks camping.

This camping trip of the "V" boys has become a yearly affair, and one that is looked forward to by the boys for many months previous to it.

The boys and Mr. Morrow will go to their camping place by way of Bear valley, where they will spend a few hours fishing. As the cost of the camping trip is very low, many boys were able to go who will probably have no other outing this summer.

Birds Preferred To Men by Woman Of North Dakota

NEWPORT BEACH, June 18.—"I'd rather have two canaries or one good parrot for a constant companion than all the men in the world."

That was the way Mary Henderson Waymack of Devils Lake, N. D., answered the question of a Register representative as to whether she didn't find it a pretty hard business traveling alone across country in an automobile. And that Miss Waymack lives up to her statement is borne out by the fact that she has four canaries, three parrots, one Persian cat and a cockatoo as her traveling companions.

Miss Waymack stopped at the Newport Beach municipal camp last night. She had arrived from San Diego in the afternoon from Texas. She is traveling by auto from Devils Lake, for 1,000 miles to Honolulu where next year she expects to teach school. Miss Waymack declared she has had no trouble whatever with her engine since she started although she admitted changing one tire eight times in less than 100 miles and finally threw it away.

"My birds have been my only companions since I started on the trip," she declared. One canary died in Arizona.

ORANGE MAN IS VICTIM OF APOPLEXY

ORANGE, June 18.—Coming as a tragic shock to his family and friends, and with incredible suddenness, the death of E. J. Ball, prominent resident and business man, occurred at his home, 175 North Grand street, Monday morning at 2 o'clock. Apoplexy was assigned as the cause.

Mr. Ball was apparently in perfect health yesterday, attending church in the evening and retiring for the night without mention of any discomfort whatever. At midnight he awoke in restless mood and later rose and moved about the room. At two o'clock complaining of dizziness, he seated himself on a couch and at once swooned away, death coming instantly.

Mr. Ball was born at Petersburg, Michigan, December 25th, 1850. He came west to Washington late in 1893 and to California and Orange in 1911, where he has since resided and has taken an active part in business, civic, church and fraternal circles so active and useful a part that he will be sadly missed.

The deceased leaves, besides a wife, Mrs. Jennie Ball, three daughters and three sons, Mrs. Edward T. Lam of Alma, Michigan, Mrs. Geo. C. Best of Plint, Michigan, Mrs. George W. Moore of Los Angeles, George Leslie Ball at present located in China, Everett H. Ball residing in Santa Ana.

The funeral arrangements are in the hands of the Gillogly and Schmitt funeral home and will be announced later.

POSTPONE ORANGE COUNCIL MEETING.

ORANGE, June 18.—The usual city council meeting that is held on Tuesday afternoon did not take place, as the majority of the members of the council were away on vacations. At the meeting last week, all business was done up, leaving the next two weeks clear for vacations.

Although the Orange city council is required to meet only once a month, it has been the custom to hold a meeting every Tuesday. Next Tuesday, June 24, is the date set for the next meeting.

PORTLAND WOMAN "ADOPTS" THIRTEEN CHILDREN AND WOULD LIKE TO TAKE MORE

NEWPORT BEACH, June 18.—Mrs. H. D. Dickey of Portland, Ore., who with her husband and two children are spending the summer at the Newport Beach Municipal Auto camp has been nicknamed the "camp mother."

For, be it known, Mrs. Dickey now is the "mother" of thirteen children.

Two of these children belong to Mrs. Dickey, six to Mrs. Charles Wilson and five others belong to two other families.

"I just love children," mused Mrs. Dickey as she gazed out over the placid bay. "If I had my way I'd adopt everyone of these eleven children I am taking care of. "And as for a place to raise children I think Orange county is the most beautiful and cleanest in the state of California. I'm frank to say I don't think much of the Port, be it known, Mrs. Dickey now is the "mother" of thirteen children.

Mrs. Dickey exercises as much patience with her wards as she does with her own children. And they all call her "mother." They range from two years to fifteen.

School Boy Aged 7 Is Injured As Auto Strikes Him

Bobbie Lambert, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl E. Lambert, 501 South Van Ness avenue, received possibly serious injuries at noon today when he was felled and run over by a car driven by James Dickson, 44, of 725 South Garnsey street, according to a report made to Police Officer Lauren E. Hurd.

The lad was on his way home from the Lowell school, when the car struck him.

He was removed to the Santa Ana Valley hospital.

L. A. Banker Talks To S. A. Rotarians

Members of the Rotary club present at yesterday's meeting of the club at St. Ann's Inn today were recalling points made by Roger Andrews, vice president of the Citizens' National Bank, Los Angeles, in an address entitled the "Uncovered Wagon." He made the point that business today is being conducted more openly and above board than in former years. He asserted that underhand methods are not practiced as formerly.

Robert L. Brown entertained with vocal selections. W. H. Spurgeon was chairman of the program.

Hold Orange Man On Liquor Charge

Gus Barkham of Orange was today in the Orange jail unable to raise $500 bail demanded by Justice of the Peace G. W. Ingle for his release to appear June 27 to answer to a charge of selling in toxicating liquor. Barkham was arrested yesterday afternoon by a special agent whose name the Orange police would not reveal. A small quantity of liquor was confiscated, police said.

New Committee On Harbor Named

President L. E. Coburn of the County Harbor Committee of Fifty, carrying out instructions issued at the meeting of the general committee held here Friday, today announced the appointment of a seventh sub-committee to be known as the special committee of industries.

The committee will be headed by Frank L. Ainsworth, of Orange and the other members are J. J. Conrad, Huntington Beach; R. T. Davies, Fullerton; Dr. C. G. Horton, Costa Mesa, and J. W. Tubbs of Santa Ana.

This committee may be enlarged at the will of the chairman if he finds it necessary. The duties of the committee will be to gather data concerning prospective new industries for the beach.

Woman Sole Heir To $9000 Estate

Mrs. Mary Schaffer of this city, whose petition for letters of administration over the $9000 estate of her late son, Louis F. Schaffer, was on file today in the superior court here, was named in the petition as sole heir.

The estate consists of cash, stocks and bonds, it was set forth.

Three Pay $15 As Speed Fines

Three speeders were fined $15 apiece in City Recorder W. F. Heathman's court, according to today's record. The accused offenders were R. J. Gillespie, Los Angeles; B. R. Stice, Santa Ana, and A. R. Coffin, Riverside.

P. A. Simoneau and Felix Ybarra of Anaheim paid $5 each for motoring through Santa Ana with their cutouts open. M. T. Hardin was assessed $5 for parking his car overtime in the two-hour zone.

A. Gurolos was released from jail by order of Recorder Heathman when he paid $38, the remainder of a $50 concealed weapon fine which he was "working out."

Film Players to Do Movie Rescue; Girls Called For

SEAL BEACH, June 18.—The Pickwick players are putting on some movie pictures Sunday. A host of bathing girls are to be in evidence and many more may be needed. A mob scene will be shot. The heroine is going to do some fancy diving from the far end of the pier, only to be barely rescued by her ardent lover.

For fear that other fair maidens may try the same thing and not be so fortunate in having a lover who is a good swimmer, the Improvement club made a motion that Mrs. Gunther and Carl Janss go before the city council this Thursday night and ask for added life preservers to be placed on the pier.

OPEN HOUSE AT YACHT CLUB SCHEDULED

NEWPORT BEACH, June 18.—The summer season at the Newport Harbor Yacht club will get under way officially Saturday and Sunday of this week. Open house for the California, Santa Barbara and San Diego Yacht clubs will be held both days with a dinner and dance Sunday.

Races of various kinds and descriptions will be held on both days and include a long distance cruiser race, schooner, ketch and vau races, sloop races, star, R and Q classes. The second heat of the Frank Smith trophy for one design sloops will be held. In addition there will be junior small sailing boat races and the second heat of the women's one design and the women's power boat races.

An informal dance will be held the following Saturday and the third heat for the Frank Smith trophy.

The annual Independence ball will be July Fourth with an informal dance on Saturday. A three-day celebration, both social and racing, will be featured on July 4, 5 and 6.

The women's weekly luncheon will be held Friday July 11 at 12:30 noon and will be followed by cards and Mah Jong.

One of the summer features of the social season will be the women's leap year ball in charge of wives of officers Saturday, July 26.

The Balboa Tournament of Lights under the auspices of the Balboa Chamber of Commerce will be held on Saturday, August 2.

Many of the members of the Newport club are planning to attend the fourth annual regatta of the Southern California Yachting association in San Diego August 10 to 17, inclusive.

Dances will be held practically every Saturday night and will end with the Halloween party Saturday, November 1.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL TEACHERS PICKED

FULLERTON, June 18.—Many of the grammar school appointments for the forthcoming year have been made, announced Principal C. A. Marney today. He states that Miss Maud Kelmeler, now attending the summer session at Berkeley, will be in charge of the upper grade musical instruction. Walter Christensen of Selma, California, will head the lower grade agricultural and manual training department; Miss Jennie Baker of Ontario and Miss Olive O'Connor of Venice, will be fifth grade teachers; Mrs. Helena Smith will be principal of the Maple avenue school; Miss Edith Wood of Wood, Colorado, will succeed Miss Olin as second grade teacher and Miss Agnes McInturf of Pasadena will teach first grade pupils.

Other appointments include: Miss Gladys Kendall, now at the U. S. C. will teach Spanish and fifth grade; the Misses Helen Benesh and Genevieve Hansen, kindergarten assistants; Miss Gladys Hoass of Bakersfield, Miss Mickey Clifford of Brawley, kindergarten principals; Miss Winifred Roberts of Upland will take charge of the first grade; Miss Edith Culter of El Modena will teach Spanish in the first grade at the Maple avenue school.

Beach Painters Represented in Eastern Magazine

LAGUNA BEACH, June 18.—The June issue of the American Magazine of Art is a California number. "California and Some California Painters" by Rose V. S. Berry, chairman of art, General Federation of Women's Clubs, tells of the great variety California has to offer artists and of the painters identified with California. There are fifteen illustrations of paintings by William Wendt, Jack Smith, Jean Mannheim, Leon Bon-ton, Or White, John Frost, Guy Rose, Benjamin C. Brown, Hanson Puthoff, R. Clarkson Colman, William P. Silva, F. Carl Smith, Helena Dunlap, Joseph Kleitsch, and Alton Clark.

Of the Laguna painters Mrs. Berry says:

"R. Clarkson Colman is one of the younger men whose poetical renderings of the sea and the plum-like pattern of the eucalyptus trees have won him an enviable reputation."

"William Wendt has long been an interpreter par excellence of certain California landscape types. No one does the low hills with the heavy resting oaks better than he does. He also has a keen appreciation of vistas held back by trees."

MARY PHILBIN EMOTIONAL FIND OF SCREENLAND
What is the quality within Mary Philbin, who stars in "Fools Highway," the current attraction at Walker's theater that has made her the foremost emotional "find" of filmland's past season's stars?

Film fans everywhere are asking this question. Some say that it is her rare and delicate type of beauty. Others insist it is an innate spark of genius which defies explanation.

All are right—partly. It could not merely be beauty, because there are other actresses who possess loveliness to a marked degree. Undoubtedly, it is the combination of her rare beauty and natural ability.

The same appeal which Mary Pickford radiates, and which stamped the Gish girls, youthful loveliness, petite grace, and an ability born within them: this alone places Miss Philbin in the front ranks with the chosen few, out of the countless thousands who have been called to entertain the tens of millions who find the screen their greatest medium for entertainment.

CYCLE OFFICERS GIVEN LIGHTS ARREST EDICT

Do both your auto headlights burn O. K.?

Do your license plates show plainly?

If you drive any kind of a truck or "for hire" car, have you obtained your $2 chauffeur's license?

Unless you can answer with an emphatic "yes," you are likely to be arrested if any of the state motorcycle officers find out about you, according to H. S. Warner, who is in charge of the state "speed cops" in Orange county.

During the past three weeks successive drives were waged against autoists who failed to comply with the details of the headlight, license plate and chauffeur's license laws, and now the state, county and city officers have been instructed to make arrests for all violations of these laws since the recent "educational campaign."

While persons previously were stopped on the road and asked to clean the mud off their license plates or to remove them from behind bumpers, such offenders now will be arrested on sight instead of being warned, if the instructions from the state traffic department are followed. Although the "speed cops" heretofore have merely stopped autoists driving at night with only one headlight or with improperly focused lights, and ordered them to correct the lighting, the offenders now will be arrested if a strict enforcement of the law is waged here.

Many persons through ignorance of the law have failed to get chauffeur's license, it was reported, while the ordinance plainly states that all persons receiving compensation for driving any kind of delivery car, truck or "for hire" passenger automobile are required to have a chauffeur's license.

Now that the "educational campaign" have been ended, there is no excuse for the public not understanding these laws, according to Captain Warner, and the officers, he said, are expected to show no mercy to violators hereafter.

SICK HEADACHE WAS RELIEVED

Missouri Lady Says She Was Miserable with Constipation and Sick Headaches Until She Used Black-Draught

Forbes, Mo.—"I have used Black-Draught, when needed, for the past twenty-five years," recently said Mrs. Emma Grimes, who lives in "Green Valley Farm" near here, "and it has given perfect satisfaction."

"I began taking it for a bad case of constipation. I would get constipated and feel just miserable—sluggish, tired, with a bad taste in my mouth. I didn't feel like doing anything and soon my head would begin hurting and I would have a severe sick headache."

"I don't know who started me to taking Black-Draught, but it did the work. It just seemed to cleanse the liver. Very soon I felt like new. When I found Black-Draught so easy to take and easy acting, I began using it in time and would not have sick headaches...."

"I can recommend Black-Draught very highly for liver trouble, headache or constipation."

Constipation leads to a great deal of sickness among those who neglect to treat it without delay. The poison which constipation forces your blood to re-absorb may cause great pain and much danger to your general health.

Keep Thedford's Black-Draught in the house and use it promptly for relief at the first sign of constipation.

FLIPPANCY MISSING IN "DARING YOUTH"
The customary flippancy of the twentieth century to which film audiences have become accustomed is missing in "Daring Youth," the present picture at the West End.

Sol Lesser, president of Principal Pictures, explains the omission on the ground that "Daring Youth" is daring enough to attempt a serious presentation of a weighty marriage problem.

"Whether or not husband and wife can live together in constant day-to-day contact in this age has become a question for daily argument," he stated. "The tendency to disregard marriage obligation has become so prevalent that people of national reputation are openly advocating the placing of marriage on a business part time basis."

"Our picture is intended purely as an entertainment. It makes no effort to argue for or against. It does, however, present an example in realistic manner so that modern audiences can size up this important problem for themselves and draw their own conclusions."

Bebe Daniels is the star and Norman Kerry is the leading man of "Daring Youth."

"LOVE'S WHIRLPOOL" AT YOST THEATRE

Moving-picture thrills, like women's fashions, are continually changing. Not so long ago, train wrecks were "the rage." This season the taste runs to shipwrecks. But a fire at sea is a comparative novelty; a "creation." This time it has been executed by Bruce Mitchell in "Love's Whirlpool," which comes to the Yost theater for a two-day run tonight.

The fire begins at the pre-dawn hour of three, when the passengers of a giant liner are deep in slumber. Flames blow off the hatch of the forward hold and, battling their way against the efforts of the ship's fire-fighters, send the terrified passengers dashing from their state-rooms to huddle on the blistering decks.

James Kirkwood, Lila Lee and Madge Bellamy have leading roles, while others in the cast are Robert Agnew as Larry, Mathew Betz as "Pinkey" Sellers, an underworld spy; Edward Martindale as the banker, Markaret Livingston as a maid in the Milton home, Madge Bellamy as the financier's daughter, Clarence Gilbert as his lawyer and Joe Mills as "Parson" Monks, an ex-convict.

MESA LIBRARY IN BETTER QUARTERS

COSTA MESA, June 18.—Work of moving the public library here was today completed and beginning tomorrow the new quarters at the corner of Eighteenth street and Newport road will be open to the public every day except Monday.

According to Miss Sarah Conant, librarian, who will be permanently in charge of the books, the library will also be open on Sunday afternoons as well as week days.

"Should a demand be shown for the library at night we will make arrangements to keep open at night," she stated.

The new quarters are situated in the Rochester building and will be temporary until the construction of a new library on land recently purchased for a library site by W. C. Spencer. Mr. and Mrs. Spencer have been instrumental in the establishing and maintenance of a public library here for the past year and it is their plan to erect and endow a library for this city. The land purchased is located on the corner of Nineteenth and Newport roads and has a 300 foot frontage on the highway. The grounds will be beautified and a miniature park made about the building, it was announced.

The local library, which is run in conjunction with the county library, now has between 1200 and 1500 books as well as an excellent supply of the latest magazines. A large number of the books have been recently donated to the library by Mrs. Fannie Ebbey Spencer, who has a very large private library. The private library will be used to form the nucleus of the library here. During the past few days Mrs. Spencer has added several fine books to the library, including "Outline of Literature," by John Drinkwater; thirteen volumes of an "American College Course" and several other books.

Prepares for hot weather! Have your electric fan put in first class condition at the Orange County Ignition Works, Fifth and Spurgeon Streets.

The LAND OF FORGOTTEN MEN

by Edison Marshall

Released by NEA Service, Inc.
Copyright 1923 by Little, Brown & Co

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Peter Newhall, Augusta, Ga., flees to Alaska, after being told by Ivan Ishmin, Russian violinist, he had drowned. Paul Sarichev, Ishmin's secretary, Ishmin and Peter's wife, Dorothy, had urged him to flee to South America. He joins Big Chris Larson in response to a distress signal at sea, giving Larson his sea jacket. Their launch hits rocks. Dorothy is advised that her husband's body, which was found by his sea jacket, is buried in Alaska. But Peter has been rescued. Injuries completely changed his appearance, changing his identity. Larson's body occupies the grave.

Ishmin and Dorothy go to Alaska, to return Peter's body. They do not recognize Peter, who is chosen head guide. A storm strikes the boat. Peter is tempted to murder Ishmin when he sees the latter kiss Dorothy. Next day his appearance, changed by a bear whose cub he had wounded.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

Her thick ears laid back against the burly head, fangs flashing, high shoulders rocking as the great, curved claws slashed through the moss. She was a huge beast—weighing more than a thousand pounds—and the power of those terrific muscles was beyond the wit of man to estimate.

Ivan had never been in greater danger, nor was such conceivable. The two natives on the hill above fled desperately, lest the enraged bear should turn on them. And in Pete's mind two thoughts flashed like rockets—one of the white, pure brilliance of a star, the other so strange and sullen and red, like the sun seen through the smoke of a forest fire, that it seemed beyond the pale of heaven-born mankind. At that instant Pete knew surely that he had only to hold his fire and Ivan would be torn to pieces before his eyes.

No blame could be laid on himself for failure to stop the charge. He had but one shell in his gun, and he might have some need of that in his own defense. From the position in which he stood it was a doubtful shot at best, not because he could not hit the great form of the bear, but because likely he could not reach her vitals. Ivan was firing desperately with his pistol, and maddened by many minor wounds, it was wholly probable that the bear would turn toward Pete after she had struck her first enemy to the earth. In that case the guide's only hope would lie in saving his one shell for a shot between the glowing eyes and into the throat at close range; there would be no time or chance to procure other shells from his pocket and reload his rifle.

Yet at the same instant that this knowledge came to him, his love for Dorothy commanded him as never before. Perhaps she loved this man, and thus he must fight for him just as he would fight for these two opposing impulses, and all the thoughts that centered upon them flashed to his consciousness in the twinkling of an eye.

His gun sprang to his shoulder. He looked along the barrel. The bear had reared up, preparing to strike, and at this range Pete could hardly miss the huge form; the question was whether or not he could reach a vital place. But at the crack of the rifle the roaring bear pitched forward, in unearthy silence, in the moss.

The rest was like a dream: Ivan shuddering, then pocketing his pistol; the fitting forms of the natives; the hills unchanged against the gray clouds. This man was no coward—this son of Asia—and he was able to smile faintly as he turned to his rescuer.

"That was a good shot, Pete," he said in a voice that hardly trembled. "I owe you some extra days' pay for that. A few jumps more, and I'm afraid we'd have had two handsome gentlemen to carry back to Georgia, instead of one."

But Pete scarcely heard. He was swept with exultation, not at the successful shot he had made, but at his sudden freedom from the dominance of his own passions. He needed no longer fear his impulses. He had escaped from himself and had come out beyond, true to his ideals and his heritage of chivalry and manhood.

CHAPTER XI
Dorothy's Loyalty

ROUGH seas prevailed during the first five days of their isolation, and these were followed by a long period of comparative calm—a pleasant change indeed, in Ivan's mind. It was unpleasant, threatening weather, yet nothing to keep stout ships in from the sea; and at the end of five days of waiting that which at first was only a vague fear became almost a certainty; that the Warrior had gone down among the island crags and would not return.

And now the castaways found themselves confronted by an ugly situation. As their hopes of rescue by the Warrior went down, the available supply of food likewise decreased, and the autumn was dying in the land.

So one evening Pete called an informal council of war. "I'll admit we've got to do something, and we can't wait very much longer," he began. "We've given the Warrior time in plenty to get back, with some days to spare to take care of breakdowns—and I haven't as much as had word of her. It may be she'll get back yet—delayed through some more or less serious accident we haven't figured on—and again she may not. This is a part of missing ships, out here. I don't see how we dare wait much longer for her to come."

"Agreed," Dorothy replied promptly. "What do you suggest we do about it?"

"Let's sum it all up first, and see where we are. Let's assume the worst, that the Warrior has gone down, and that she went down before she got word to anybody to come and rescue us. Sooner or later Bradford and De Lone, down in Seattle, will learn that the Warrior did not come into Seward, but she wasn't expected at any definite time, if she was expected at all, and it may be months before a search party is sent out—a half-hearted search party at that, because they will naturally think that we went down with the Warrior. After the same long period of weeks and months, some of your relatives and friends down below will become anxious about you and dispatch some search parties; but they will likely become discouraged by the same news—that we went down with the Warrior—and rank us among the missing." Pete did not add that this business of being included with the missing was an old game to him.

"But say they do come and search this shore; at least, it will be a matter of weeks and months. And weeks and months in this climate, and winter and with little food, is a deadly deal. There remains the dory, and the difficult more or less dangerous trip down the coast to some settlement."

"Of course, it's the only possible plan now; you'll agree with me in that. But our food supplies are already so low it wouldn't be safe to attempt the trip for the five of us."

"We've got to get busy quick. The natives are already getting scared; they say they can smell winter, that it's going to set in early. Now this is my plan."

"Tomorrow you let me take three days' rations of grub—a Siwash outfit the meat up here call it—and start off across the Peninsula on foot. I'll pick my way over that range, sleeping out at night, and—down on the Pacific side, where I'm bound to run into some native village or trapper's hut in a few days' travel. Then I'll get a hundred pounds of canned goods and come back here. Meanwhile the natives will go hunting and kill all the venison they can, which we'll dry over the fire—but it into strips and jerk it the best we can. Then with that fresh supply of food, you two, with the two natives to man the oars, can work down the coast and out."

"And what will you do, in the meantime?" Dorothy asked.

"You can leave me a little flour and my rifle, and I'll make it through; when you hit a settlement you can ask a native to pack me in a load of grub. That isn't a very big boat, and your grub will be limited, the best you can do. Besides, there's a possibility that some one will come here to look for you, and in that case one of us ought to be here to tell him where to pick you up."

It was a good plan, she felt at once that it was the only plan. But when she tried to be hopeful, a deep wave of depression seemed to engulf her, a feeling of hopelessness, indifference to the future, almost as if old age had suddenly claimed her.

"I don't see why it will be necessary for any one to cross the mainland," Ivan said, in the hush that followed Pete's mellow, deep baritone. He spoke with considerable emphasis and urgency. "While you were gone, we'd just be eating more grub all the time. We'd better start in the dory tomorrow."

Pete shook his head. "It wouldn't be safe, with our supplies so far reduced. You must remember that while I'm gone the natives can be hunting and drying meat."

"Perhaps the best plan would be for you to stay and hunt, too; jerked venison is a fine ration, and with the little we have here it would be all we'd need for the trip."

"But only one of us can hunt, because we've got only one rifle, Mr. Ishmin," Pete argued politely.

Ivan hesitated, and his face looked yellowish-white in the fading light of day. "If some one is going to go, it had better be me," he said at last. "I can cross the ranges as well as you can." Pete's eyes dropped over the Mongol's graceful, yet powerful form, and he believed that this was true. "If help can be found, I'll find it—I'm not afraid of hardship, either. I've seen plenty of it, in my training for the Russian army. You can take care of Mrs. Newhall and look out for her comfort as you've done previously."

Pete glanced at Dorothy to see what her face showed; but she was evidently neutral. "Perhaps Mrs. Newhall would not want to be left here—without your protection," he said simply.

"On the contrary, I'm perfectly willing to do what's best for all concerned," Dorothy remarked.

"I'm sure it would be best. You need Pete here to look out for your comfort, to dry the venison and to take care of the camp while the natives are hunting. I have every confidence in you, Pete; and so has Mrs. Newhall."

"I appreciate what you say, very much," Pete returned.

Miss Gertrude Fanning McHugh, who has been re-elected secretary of the Indiana State Democratic committee, is the first woman ever to be made secretary of a state committee of either of the major political parties. She was first chosen two years ago, after demonstrating her ability during six years of service in the position of assistant secretary.

INCREASE IN PHONE RATES OBJECTED

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 18.—The proposed increase in telephone rates here through the absorption of the Smetzer Telephone company by the local company was strenuously objected to by City Attorney L. W. Blodgett at the hearing on the proposal held here yesterday by C. L. Seavey of the state railroad commission. The hearing was held at the city hall.

E. H. Cookingham, manager of the local exchange, stated that he believed that everyone would be benefited by the consolidation. He answered the question as to whether rate in this city would be raised with a question as to whether or not the business men of the city would not be willing to pay higher telephone rates for a little more business.

Testimony given by W. H. Warner of Westminster, who is on the Smetzer line, showed that people of that section do more telephoning to Santa Ana than to Huntington Beach and most of their business comes to Santa Ana.

It was also stated by Cookingham that the present private line telephone rates such as is now being used by Warner would be raised from $4.50 at the present time to $9.50 after the consolidation. Eight-party lines at Smetzer are now $2.50 it was stated, and after the consolidation would be $3.75.

E. A. Maher, representing the Holly Sugar corporation, stated that the Smetzer exchange was at present giving much better service than the local exchange. This was explained by Cookingham to be caused by the fact that a ticket system is used at the local exchange while the Smetzer line has a direct connection with Santa Ana.

GROCCERS VISIT PACKING PLANTS

FULLERTON, June 18.—Guests of the California Fruit Growers' exchange, some 750 delegates to the National Retail Grocers' association, now holding their annual convention in Los Angeles, were yesterday afternoon shown through two local packing plants and given an idea of the methods of orange selection, grading and packing for shipment.

The visitors were regaled with orange juice and light refreshments. They left early in the evening for Brookside park, Pasadena, where they were guests at a big barbecue arranged in their honor by retail grocers of Los Angeles.

Dale King, secretary-manager of the Northern Orange County Citrus exchange, was assisted in entertaining the delegates by George Crawford, assistant manager, Norman Lombard, field manager and Lloyd Carson, field superintendent.

Arrange Funeral Of Orange Pioneer

Funeral services for E. J. Ball, pioneer of Orange, who died early morning at Orange, will be held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at Gillogly and Schmitt undertaking parlors in Orange. Interment will be made in Fairhaven cemetery. Mr. Ball was the father of Harry H. Ball, 111 West Seventeenth street, Santa Ana. Other sons are Everett J. Ball, Great Falls, Mont., George W. Ball, shipping board official; daughters are Mrs. G. W. Moore, Los Angeles; Mrs. Iva Best, Flint, Mich.; Mrs. E. T. Lamb, Alma, Mich.

In parts of rural England there are still women who entertain a superstitious belief that they will improve their children's health by eating raisins and placing the stones on the baby's stomach.

Rupture EXPERT HERE

P. H. Seeley, of Chicago and Philadelphia, the noted truss expert, will personally be at the Rossmore Hotel, and will remain in Santa Ana Thursday only, June 19. Mr. Seeley will not only retain any case of rupture perfectly, but contracts the opening in 10 days on the average case. Being a vast advancement over all former methods—exemplifying instantaneous effects immediately appreciable and withstanding any strain or position no matter the size or location. Large or difficult cases, or incisional ruptures (following operations) specially solicited. This instrument received the only award in England and in Spain, producing results without surgery, injections, medical treatments or prescriptions. Warning—All cases should be cautioned against the use of any elastic or web truss with the understraps, as same rest where the lump is and not where the opening is, producing complications necessitating surgical operations. Mr. Seeley has documents from the United States Government, Washington, D. C., for inspection. He will be glad to demonstrate without charge or fit them if desired. Business demands prevent stopping at any other place in this section.

P. S.—Every statement in this notice has been verified before the Federal and State Courts.—P. H. Seeley, Home Office 117 Dearborn St., Chicago.

Santa Ana Man Buys in Fullerton

FULLERTON, June 18.—Phil Haber, who has been operating the Greater Unique, ladies' ready-to-wear store in Santa Ana, has purchased the interests of Arthur Saltman in The Fashion, a similar establishment here. Mr. Saltman is going to Long Beach to open up a larger business. Messrs. Haber and Saltman have been partners in the two stores, the former managing the Santa Ana store and the latter the local establishment.

HARBOR REALTORS TO HONOR WIVES

NEWPORT BEACH, June 18.—The realtors of Newport Beach and Balboa are to have a "women's night" June 27. On that date the realtors from Orange are to visit Newport Beach and meet with the harbor real estate dealers. One of the features will be a trip over Newport bay where the visitors will be guests of the Harbor Chamber of Commerce.

Following the boat ride the party will take dinner in the rooms of the Newport Harbor yacht club, and a special committee will present a program that promises to provide plenty of pleasure.

Active members of the Harbor Realty club will have charge of the program for the entire affair and in order that the women may feel at home a special committee of women has been appointed for the occasion. The committee comprises: Mrs. William Williamson, Mrs. Glen Wallace, Mrs. George Nell and Mrs. Jay.

PICK L. A. MAN ENGINEER AT BEACH CITY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 18.—E. M. Billings of Los Angeles was yesterday afternoon chosen as city engineer for the coming year for this city at a special meeting of the city trustees held at the city hall for the purpose of selecting an engineer. A motion was also passed by the trustees to ask City Engineer L. F. Gates, whose resignation takes effect today to remain at his duties until such a time as Billings will be able to take them over.

Billings was chosen after considerable deliberation and investigation from a field of thirteen men, who applied for the position. Votes were taken by the councilmen on three different men: Thomas Berry of this city, Merwin Rosson of Santa Ana, and E. M. Billings. A large number of the applicants were thrown out when the board decided that percentage compensation for the office of city engineer would not be considered.

FULLERTON POWER REDUCED

FULLERTON, June 18.—Drastic cuts have been made in street lighting here to conform to the conservation program inaugurated by the Southern California Edison company. The lights have been decreased 75 per cent. On the main street, half of the standards now are dark at night and in the residential districts just two lights are allowed to each block.

Cowgirl Actress Disappears from Robinson Circus

WARREN, Ohio, June 18.—Patricia Salmon, whose histrionic ability led eastern men who saw her at Shelby, Mont., on the occasion of the Dempsey-Gibbons fight to procure her a place in the Ziegfeld Follies, disappeared from here recently. The John Robinson circus management asked the police for help, fearing misfortune. Patricia was to have appeared here for the first time before a circus crowd.

Nero's Palace, Buried in Mud, To be Dug Up

ROME, June 18.—An attempt is to be made to recover from Lake Nemi, near Rome, the floating palace of the Emperor Tiberius, consisting of two galleys which have been buried in the mud for 19 centuries and are believed to contain marvels of ancient art equal to those found in the tomb of Tutankhamen.

WHAT IS THE USE OF LIVING?

What is the use of living when a woman gets up in the morning as tired as when she went to bed at night with headache, backache, dragging-down pains, nervous, irritable and despondent? These are all symptoms of ailments peculiar to her sex which makes life a burden. Every woman in this condition should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a good old-fashioned remedy made from roots and herbs. It contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and for fifty years has been restoring women to health and strength and the joys of living.—Adv.

Announcing The Easiest Car in the World to Take Care of

One-Shot Lubricating System

HERE is a car that is entirely new! A larger, more powerful Cleveland Six with so many marvelous features that it is destined to sweep the nation.

Because it is the only car in the world containing the One-Shot Lubrication System, it ranks as the easiest car in the world to take care of. By stepping on a plunger near his heel, the driver lubricates in two seconds all those parts which in other cars require an hour's grimy work with grease gun and oil can.

No greater convenience feature was ever offered to the motorist.

Mileage Motor

PERFORMANCE to be proud of—that's what the owner of a 1925 Cleveland Six has in store.

Under the hood of his car is one of the truly great power plants—the new Mileage Motor.

He can pace any stock car in the world on hills—exceed 60 miles an hour when the road is clear—leap from 5 to 25 miles an hour in less than seven seconds!

Yet he revels in flawlessly smooth and silent operation at all speeds—gets well over 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline—and carbon troubles are unknown.

Balloon Tires

All models come equipped with genuine supersize balloon tires at no extra cost.

With the longer wheel base, the scientific spring suspension, and the accurate distribution of weight, the last word in even, jarless riding comfort is achieved.

The closed bodies are by Fisher—with all the beauty, refinement, and lasting qualities that Fisher construction guarantees.

The chassis is longer and stronger—the transmission is new—the rear axle indestructible.

4-Wheel Brakes

Four-wheel brakes of proven design and construction are offered as optional equipment.

Due to their extreme simplicity, their operation is sure—their maintenance easy—and the charge for them is unusually low.

See this truly marvelous new car! Test it for power, for speed, for smoothness, for flashing get-away.

We guarantee you an experience the like of which you have never had before in any car!

15 POLY SPORT STARS TO BE GRADUATED

Football, Baseball, Track Captains Are Among Athletes to Leave

When the graduating class of the Santa Ana high school assembles Friday night for its commencement exercises at the local auditorium the curtain will be rung down on the prep athletic careers of no less than fifteen youths who during the last three years were awarded monograms for defending the Poly colors in various divisions of sport.

Eight of these were members of Coach Edward Covington's 1923 football squad and their loss will be hard to fill next season.

Eddie Linsbard, the Poly grid captain of last fall, is one of those who will be given his diploma and will pass from the high school portals for the last time. Linsbard played center on the eleven. Don Williams, who graduated last February, also is on the list. Williams was used at quarterback and full-back.

The other football heroes who will snatch at sheepskins are Danny Cook, quarterback; Winfrey ("Beano") Golden, quarterback; Bill Luck, halfback; Marley Natland, end; Leon ("Chapple") Townsend, guard and Charlie Wood, tackle.

Basketball ranks will be deprived of the services of Verlin Anderson, center and Lauraine Bowe, captain and forward. Cook, Linsbard, Luck, Natland and Golden also were members of the squad this season and last.

Coach Ray Adkinson of the Poly track forces will mourn the graduation of Captain Lloyd Morris, Everett Lutz, Roland Rabe, Charlie Webber and Natland.

Bowe, Golden and Luck were graduates who made letters in baseball.

BERCOT WINNER IN GO WITH BENJAMIN

LOS ANGELES, June 18.—Jack Dempsey's lightweight protege, Joe Benjamin, took a trimming at the hands of Dode Bercot, Washington logger, at Doyle's Coliseum last night. The affair was a battle all the way and the decision pleased the customers from start to finish.

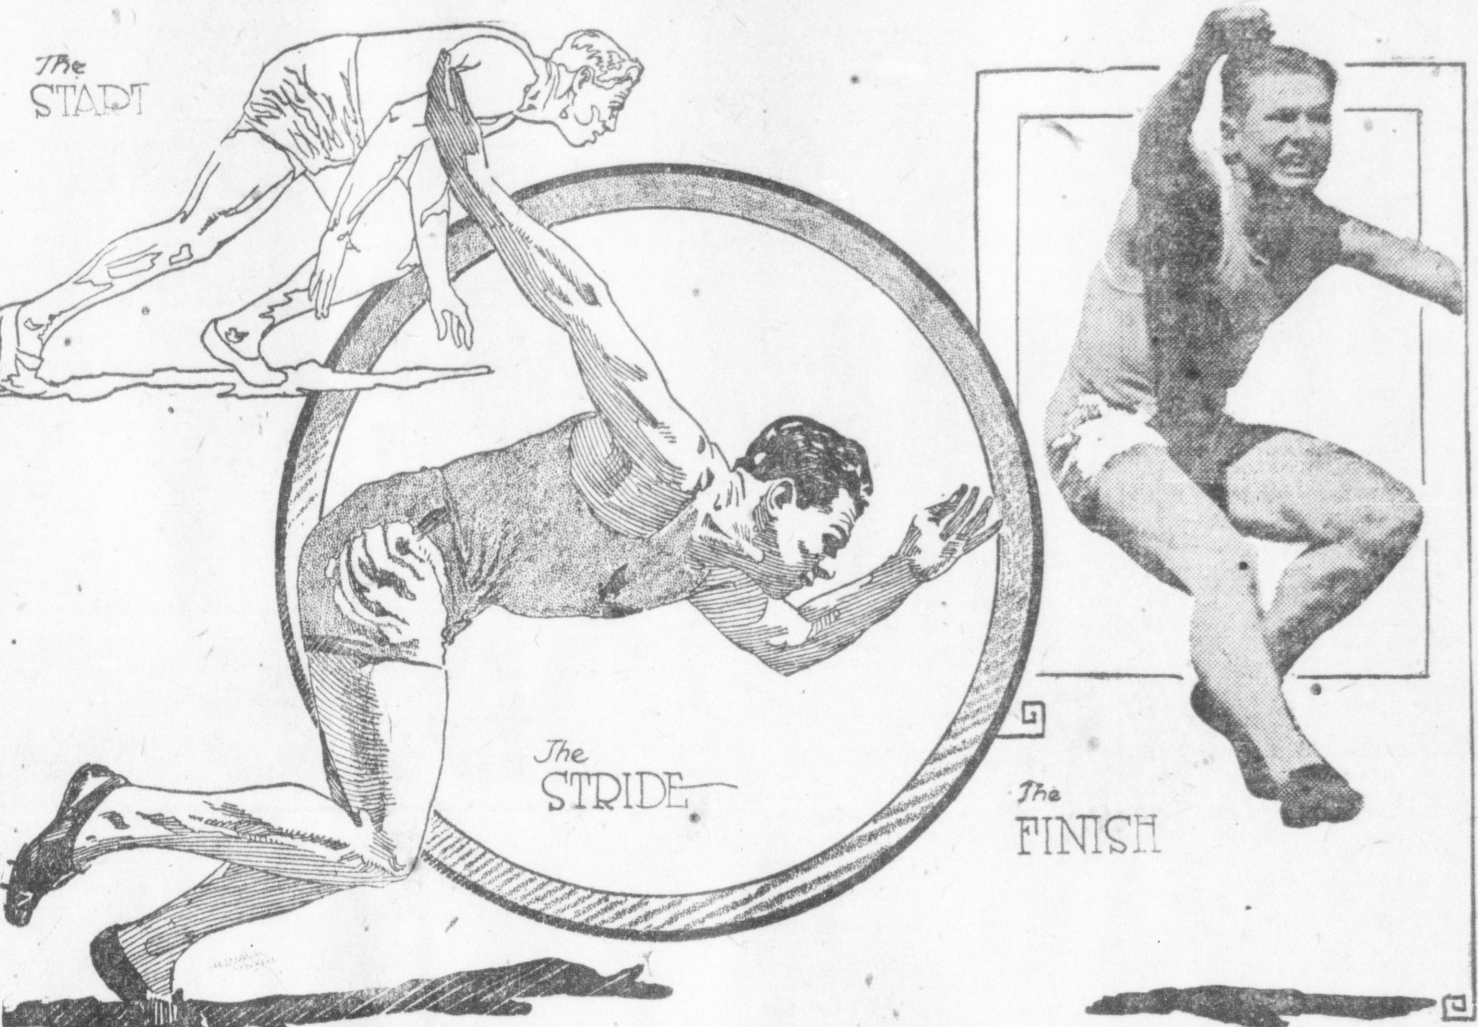

It was the first time that Benjamin has ever faced a left-hander here. Though too clever a boxer to be fooled continuously by the southpaw opposition, Benjamin had difficulty in getting his right hand with its accustomed frequency.

George Rivers upset the dope in his bout with Young National, shading the sensational Filipino by a neat little margin.

Ernie Owens was too strong for Glenn Clinkner and Tommy White beat Joe Kelly in top preliminaries. Young Farrell and Felix Villamore fought a snappy draw that went over well.

The Senators made 15 hits off four White Sox pitchers and won, 12 to 6.

IS CHARLEY PADDOCK STILL TRACK'S "FASTEST HUMAN?"

Defeated twice at Cambridge the other day, Charley Paddock of Pasadena, the "world's fastest human," has one more chance to live up to his reputation. This is when the most famous and fastest sprinters in the world toe the mark at Paris, France, in the Olympic Games next month. Paddock will be among these.

A-B SPECIALS BEAT BROADWAY CHAMPS

West Fourth Rollers Twice Pass 900 Mark to Score 3 to 1 Victory

Twice surpassing the 900 total mark, the A and B. Specials, representing the A and B bowling alleys, last night at the Broadway academy recorded a 3 to 1 victory over the American National bank quintette, champions of the North Broadway house.

The West Fourth street rollers rang up marks of 937 and 917 in their first and second encounters and although nosed out 812 to 803 in the third and final fracas, were returned victors for the fourth team total, digit by 67 points.

Both squads were in good form and some of the best marks since bowling came into its own here were made. W. R. ("Stormy") Gordon, of the A. and B. five, was high point man for the evening. He made 572 pins for an average of 190 plus. Richards, lead-off man, of the Bankers, finished second with a mark of 553.

GOSSIP of the RING

BY JOE WILLIAMS

Georges Carpentier's first money grabbing expedition in this country was entitled "The Battle of the Century."

His last one—and it certainly ought to be his last one—will go down in the carefully edited records as "The Footrace of the Century."

From start to finish the Frenchman took it one the run in his little flaic pleasantry with Tommy Gibbons at Michigan City, pausing only at discreet, and sagely spaced intervals to swing a wild, impotent hand in the general direction of the St. Paul Irishman.

It was the most complete and painstaking retreat in the history of pugilism and, contrasted with the noble stand put forth by another Frenchman, Eugene Criqui, against Johnny Dundee last fall, the frantic scurrings of Carpentier were nothing short of disgraceful.

$75,000 for Carp
The game Criqui gave the fans a run for their money. For that matter so did Carpentier, but it was a run that would easily have matched the high voltage strides of a Paddock or a Murchison.

Carpentier did absolutely nothing to earn his $75,000 guarantee except to pose gracefully for the photographers and to flop dramatically on what he said was a turned ankle in the ninth round.

This ankle incident, by the way, is his alibi and will be pressed energetically to save the face of the proposed match with Gene Tunney, American light heavyweight champion.

"I would have knocked out Gibbons if my ankle hadn't collapsed," Carpentier told newspaper men after the fight.

This crack merits a low, rumbling guffaw.

Only Landed One Punch
The Frenchman only hit Gibbons the solid punch, a straight right hander to the jaw in the middle of the fourth round. It was a carbon cop of the punch he landed in the second round of the Dempsey fight, except that it did not send him reeling, nor did it as

The three most important physical factors which make for success in the sprints are (1) the start, (2) the stride and (3) the finish.

No sprinter leaps away from the line faster than the gifted Californian, no sprinter has a longer or more perfectly timed stride, and none a finish more peculiarly his own. Little wonder, then, that he has made track history that promises to endure for years.

Paddock's tumultuous finishing style, wherein he literally throws his body at the tape, is frowned upon by critics. They say it is unorthodox and a hindrance, to maximum speed.

All of which may be quite true, but in Paddock's case it has seemed to work out pretty well. Maybe it is that subtle distinguishing gesture which singles out the genius.

Rickard Cancels Negotiations for Luis Firpo Bout

BUENOS AIRES, June 18.—Juan Hommes, Tex Rickard's representative here, has called off all negotiations with Luis Firpo pertaining to the South American boxer's appearance in the United States. Firpo demanded $10,000 cash, paid here in advance, the privilege of naming the referee and made other demands which could not be granted. Hommes made reservations on the Southern Cross which sails for the United States tomorrow.

The Carpentier right, along with the other Carpentier fighting qualities, is gone.

At that Gibbons should have scored a knockout. He had more than one chance. The Frenchman was ready to go in the third and again in the seventh. It took quite a bit of vocal urging on the part of the parental Deschamps to get him to come out for the eighth round. Georges was perfectly agreeable to walking out and leaving the party flat on its vulgar back.

These lapses will probably cost Gibbons a return match with Dempsey. If a man can't stop the decrepit Carpentier of today, even in full retreat, there is little reason to believe he will annoy the champion.

The Cubs could touch Couch for only four singles but made them count and beat the Phils, who hit keen hard, 6 to 5.

GEORGE BLAHOLDER IS HIGHLY PRAISED

Scribe Calls Garden Grove Pitcher Best Prospect In Western League

After a winning streak of six straight games that made him the most talked of pitcher in the Western league, George Blaholder, Garden Grove boy, suffered defeat twice last week, according to word received here today. Blaholder, the property of the St. Louis Browns, is a member of the Tulsa club to which he was "loaned" by the American league team.

By virtue of his sensational work at the beginning of the pennant chase, when he captured six games after dropping his first, Blaholder retains an average of .667.

An article concerning Western league teams, recently appearing in the Sporting News, a baseball weekly, referred to Blaholder as the best looking prospect in the circuit. The writer of this article termed Blaholder as "a young giant with blistering speed, utmost courage and a good change of pace, and a player destined for big league stardom if he continues to improve."

Blaholder was picked up here in the winter of 1922-23 by Jimmy Austin, coach of the St. Louis Browns, who winters at Laguna Beach. At that time Blaholder was hurling for the Tustin team of the Orange County Harbor league. Last season he pitched for Terre Haute

AMERICAN GIRL DEFEATED BY MISS COVELL

Suzanne Arrives to Defend Wimbledon Crown; Says U. S. Champ 'Slow'

BY HENRY L. FARRELL

United Press Staff Correspondent
WIMBLEDON, England, June 18.

With Suzanne Lenglen looking on, Helen Wills, American looking tennis champion, was defeated in straight sets in the Wightman cup matches here this afternoon by Miss Covell of England.

Occasionally the French girl, smiled at the rather sorry showing of the Californian whom many pick to win the world's singles championship from Lenglen in the Wimbledon tournament.

Miss Wills had no excuse; she committed error after error; her foot work was slow and many times she was caught out of position. The scores were: 6-2 and 6-4.

Afterwards the crowd gave Miss Covell an ovation on her splendid showing and Helen summoned up a brave smile as she congratulated the victor at the net.

"She outplayed me," Miss Wills said after the match. "I've no excuse. But without any credit from Miss Covell, I do feel I wasn't playing my best game. I simply couldn't get started."

The Californian girl was nervous. The first thing she did was to serve two double faults and to drive out twice, losing the opening game at love. She not only lacked control but her judgment seemed bad.

Miss Covell played carefully and allowed Miss Wills to beat herself.

SUZANNE ARRIVES TO DEFEND TITLE

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 18.—"I will defend my title in singles play at Wimbledon," Miss Suzanne Lenglen, woman champion tennis player of the world, declared today on her arrival here to watch the American and British women in action in the Wightman cup matches.

Thus the long anticipated match between Mlle. Lenglen and Helen Wills appears once more likely. As for the little American girl, the brusque Suzanne had this to say: "Helen Wills? Why, yes, I hear she is a lovely girl. A little slow footed, of course, but with a few good strokes."

The Garden Grove twirler is not the only Orange county boy making good in professional baseball. "Tufty" Tyrrell, Santa Ana youngster, is catching great ball for the Arkansas City club of the Southwestern league and has continued his terrific hitting. His average is almost .400.

Heavy hitting and superior base running accounted for a Yank victory over Cleveland, after the Indians had started with a five run advantage, New York finally winning, 7 to 5.

The Pirates and Braves broke even in a holiday double header. Pits. bunched taking the first 5 to 2, and being shut out by McNamara in the next, 1 to 0.

THE LINE OF CONVENIENCE FOR BUSINESS OR PLEASURE

The lines of the PACIFIC ELECTRIC are the links of the chain of transportation that binds the communities of Southern California together for business, social and industrial growth.

FREQUENT, DEPENDABLE and ECONOMICAL service is operated between practically all of the Southland's important cities.

Apply at ticket offices and information bureaus or write for illustrated folders giving details regarding sight-seeing trips.

A PUZZLE A DAY

A boy had five pennies, which he divided into five groups. The first group exceeded the second by 3; but was 10 less than the third group. It exceeded the fourth by 9, and was 15 less than the fifth group. How many pennies were in each group?

Yesterday's answer:

6	3	2
11	1	7
24	4	24

When the squares of fractions are arranged as shown in the drawing, each of the eight rows, vertical, horizontal and diagonal, adds up to total of 24-24, or 1.
